Will It Become Sieg Heil Again?

A Berlin mob cheers as one of their number tears down the Russian flag in a demonstration Thursday, that won them the cheers of the commercial press. They haven't had such a "lift" since they cheered Der Schoene Adolf at Tempelhof air field.

400,000 in Berlin Parade Assail Fascism

BERLIN, Sept. 12. — Huge crowds streamed into the Lustgarten today to mourn the millions who had been murdered by fascism throughout the world. Three huge funeral pyres flamed to the sky and big red banners fluttered in the breeze, as long lines of marchers paraded into the square, which is in the Soviet sector, bearing hundreds of flags and singing songs. There were Germans from all parts of the country, and big delegations from all the nations which had suffered the ravages of fascism.

The paraders—400,000 of them, according to the Berlin radio—came from all directions, down Unter der Linden avenue from the Brandenburg gate, from Alexander Square to the north, and across foot bridges from the ruins surrounding Berlin Castle, former home of Germany's emperors.

And the paraders gave the answer to the frenzied mob, egged on by stooges of Wall Street imperialism, which on Thursday had attacked Soviet soldiers and tore down the flag of the United States' wartime ally.

WARNS OF WARMONGERS

The meeting, which was part of a two-day world convention of victims of fascism, heard Lieut. Gen. Ivan Gordojev, leader of the Soviet delegation to the parley, warn against the efforts of American imperialists to push the world into a new war. Pledging a continuous fight against imperialism, Gordojev declared:

"We will . . . not rest until all fascist elements are ousted from Germany. . . . The people in Germany and Berlin continue to be sacrificed for fascist aims."

Gordojev called for unification of Germany and the withdrawal of all occupation troops.

Gordojev and other speakers, from Germany and other countries, had difficulty in making themselves heard at times, because of the engine noise of British and American planes, which flew over the gathering all through the meeting.

Europe Lawyers to Attend Trial of CP Heads

By Joseph Starobin
By Cable to The Worker

PRAGUE, Sept. 12.—A delegation of prominent lawyers from six European countries will be appointed to attend the Oct. 15 trial of the 12 indicted American Communist leaders, it was announced here.

The decision to send the delegation was made at the final session of the Congress of International Democratic Lawyers, meeting at the Charles University. It was adopted unanimously as a recommendation to the association's council.

The council, comprising 200 national delegates, under the chairmanship of the noted French jurist, Rene Cassin, met immediately afterward and accepted the plan.

The delegation will include lawyers from Britain, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia.

The action was taken on the proposal of the American delegation, and was accompanied by a sharp statement expressing "most grave concern over the prosecution of the entire leadership of the Communist Party of the USA." The statement added, "We consider the implications arising from the prosecution so serious to the entire world" as to warrant the delegation.

The resolution also noted that "the tragic experience of recent times in Germany, Italy and Franco Spain indicates that outlawing the Communist Party was but the first step toward destruction of all democratic rights."

"The right of political opinion," the resolution continued, "is the basis of democratic government," and cited the American constitution and the draft of the declaration of the United Nations Human Rights Commission.

The congress here also affirmed the Human Rights draft as a forward step, but held it required a clearer stand on condemning fascism.

Immediate action was also urged on the protest against the treatment of American Negroes, filed last fall by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Cassin was reelected president of the congress, and Robert Kenny was elected one of seven vice-presidents. Martin Pepper, one of three American delegates, was elected one of three general secretaries.

IAM to Weigh National Wage Policy

By William Allan

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 12.—The International Association of Machinists (IAM) which will open its convention sessions here tomorrow, reports its largest membership in its 61 years of existence, 650,000 members. Represented by 900 delegates from 17,000 lodges in the U.S.A. and Canada.

One of the highpoints of debate in the two-week sessions is expected to be agreement in future on a national overall wage demand to win for the entire membership the pattern gained by mass CIO unions like Auto, Steel, UE and others.

Other issues will be: A mobilization together with AFL, CIO, Railroad and other unions for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act; greater autonomy to lodges; debate on political action with the expectation that endorsement of Truman will be sought, and discussion on reaffiliation with the AFL, from which the IAM broke away two years ago on jurisdictional grounds.

According to union spokesmen the four-month old strike of the IAM at Boeing Airplane Co. will be an immediate order of business, with denunciations of Dave Beck, west coast teamster leader for alleged strikebreaking.

The IAM's increased membership is attributed to winning 2,472 union shop elections since Jan. 1, 1948.

sters Local 807. Owners employing about 3,000 of the union's 9,400 members on strike had accepted by yesterday the union's compromise demands. The revised demands, which an 807 membership meeting agreed Friday to submit to individual operators, substituted a 17½ cents an hour wage boost for a 25-cent demand, and a combination Blue Cross hospitalization and $1,000 death benefit program for a 5 percent of payroll welfare fund.

While the compromise demand was quickly accepted by such retail food chains as Bohack, A&P and Peter Reeves, truck operators represented by five employer associations decided unanimously not to sign on those terms.

HOLD TO 15 CENTS

The holdouts have consistently refused to budge beyond their original 15-cent offer, and have brushed aside the drivers' insistence on some form of welfare program for this hazardous and insecure occupation.

Among the diehard employers are the city's major haulage firms, including Motor Haulage and U. S. Trucking.

Spotlighting the intra-union cleavage which has plagued Local 807 throughout the 13-day walkout, Joseph M. Adelizzi, chief employer spokesman, emphasized over the weekend that the 15-cents, no welfare program had been accepted by the area-wide committee of 13 teamster locals upon the recommendation of a panel of government mediators.

TRAP FOR 807

It was this area-wide committee which has conducted negotiations throughout the strike, serving as a trap for Local 807, whose members quit work while other locals signed for the 15 cents. Nevertheless 807

Ghost of Hitler At Spiritualist Parley

LONDON, Sept. 12 (Telepress).—Two former German prisoners of war interrupted the International Spiritualist Congress in London yesterday with an anti-Semitic outburst.

"What right has this Jewess to address the conference on behalf of the German Reich?" one of them asked when a woman member of the London Spiritualist organization translated a speech sent by Dr. Roosermueller, the German delegate, who explained that the Catholic-controlled Bavarian authorities had refused him a permit to travel.

The two Germans later made speeches explaining that they represented the German group "Ostara" originally formed at their P.O.W. camp in the United States.

"We hope that the entire spiritualist movement here will be on its guard against infiltration by Communist subversive elements. We want to fight against materialistic evils," one of them declared.

REP. MAX SCHWABE (R-Mo), shown here sitting while his brother, Rep. George B. Schwabe, stands beside him, is helping to conduct the House hearings against the fur union.

UOPWA WINS PAY RAISE AT LAWYERS TITLE CORP

Two hundred and fifty workers of the Lawyers Title Corp., a real estate title insurance company owned by Kuhn-Loeb bankers, have won a $4.50 weekly increase in a renewed contract. They are members of the CIO Financial Employees Guild, UOPWA.

Half of the increase will be paid until Dec. 1, when the old contract expires.

Other benefits include hospitalization and surgery expenses paid for by the company, a drafters' clause providing full seniority and credit for all general increases, upgrading of about 10 classifications, improved vacation clause, an agreement that no incentive plan can be installed without the prior approval of the union.

Lawyers Title Corp. respected the workers' decision not to use the Taft-Hartley law or board. While a vote in a recent national referendum conducted by the UOPWA was six to one against compliance, in this financial institution the workers voted 14 to one.

Joe Sess, Lawyers Title chapter chairman, and secretary-treasurer of the local, said, "This contract represents a dramatic victory for the policy of militant, progressive trade unionism over Taft-Hartleyism. This is best exemplified by its contrast to the defeat of the AFL United Financial Employees in the Stock Exchange situation."

Gates' Rights in AVC Backed in South, Frisco

John Gates, Daily Worker editor, threatened with expulsion from the American Veterans Committee, has had his membership rights in the veterans' group defended by members in Georgia and California, it was learned yesterday.

Following a decision made last July 30, AVC's National Administrative Committee held a hearing on the Gates case Aug. 27, last, in New York. Although no ruling has yet been made, the NAC resolved in its July meeting that membership in the Communist Party and the AVC was incompatible.

Lester H. Persells, AVC southeastern regional chairman with headquarters in Atlanta, expressed his "disagreement with the idea of stating that membership in any organization is grounds in and of itself for expulsion from AVC."

Persells, identified with the right-wing AVC group and a member of the National Planning Committee, continued to lump together erroneously Communists and Klansmen. His comments were written in the regional newsletter of Aug. 26, 1948.

Holding that AVC leadership should abandon tradition of "guilt by group association," Persells asked the National Planning Committee of AVC to resolve the following:

"NFC reiterates AVC's belief in this tradition (guilt of the individual) and hereby affirms the policy that persons are expelled because of individual actions which in and of themselves are inimical to the interests of AVC. . . ."

From the Pacific Coast, the Daily Worker learned that AVC's San Francisco Area Council resolved at its August meeting:

"That San Francisco Area Council earnestly calls the attention of the National Planning Committee and its Committee to the constitutional guarantee for membership of John Gates or any other veteran in the American Veterans Committee, regardless of political affiliation, which has never been considered as a qualification for membership."

The resolution was transmitted to AVC's national office over the signature of Faith Craig, council executive secretary.

State CIO-PAC Backs Truman

SYRACUSE, Sept. 12.—The right-wing state PAC conference of the CIO ended a two-day session here after unanimously endorsing Harry Truman for President. The parley, from which unions opposing Truman were excluded, featured attacks on Progressive Party candidate Henry Wallace by Jacob S. Potofsky, Amalgamated president; Jack Kroll, national PAC director; Michael J. Quill, Transport Workers president, and other speakers. The 80th Congress and Thomas E. Dewey were also criticized.

Quill predicted that the Progressives would "not take away too many votes."

State CIO president Louis Hollander pleaded for a "rolling up of sleeves" for Truman, as he closed the parley.

On the first day of the gathering, the rightwingers ecstatically applauded James B. Carey, repudiated Electrical Workers convention delegate and national CIO secretary, when he hailed Truman as America's greatest liberal President, greater than Roosevelt.

Hollander revealed his rightwing group would soon set up a body which would attempt to replace the New York City CIO.

Hollander and other speakers centered their attacks on Henry Wallace, the City CIO and the Communists, and then adopted a formal resolution hitting Dewey's labor record.

The State CIO executive board will meet at the Hotel Commodore in New York on Wednesday, where the question of political endorsements for Nov. 2 will come up.

The Fur Bosses' Bi-Partisan Friends

SCHWABE, GOP, AND LUCAS, DEMO, HAVE ANTI-LABOR RECORD

By Mel Fiske

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Rep. Max Schwabe (R-Mo) who practically broke his arm patting Ira Mosher, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, on the back last year, is now breaking his neck to help out the fur manufacturers.

Schwabe is conducting hearings of a House labor sub-committee investigating "Communist influences" in the CIO Fur and Leather Workers Union. Rep. Fred J. Hartley (R-NJ), the latter half of the Taft-Hartley law, named Schwabe and Rep. Wingate Lucas (D-Tex) to oversee the hearings.

Hartley established a reputation of picking his friends from the anti-labor, anti-people's camp when he appeared as a speaker before a German-American Bund rally in New Jersey several years ago. His reputation remains unsullied with his choice of Schwabe and Lucas as members of the House Labor sub-committee.

FOUGHT WAGE MINIMUM

Schwabe and Lucas have a record that's 99 and 9/10 percent pure anti-labor and anti-people. Schwabe accumulated this record during his three terms in Congress; Lucas accomplished his in one short term. Aside from commending Mosher for the NAM's "foresight and courage" in breaking OPA, Schwabe took a hand in spreading NAM propaganda against raising minimum wages from 40 to 75 cents.

Early this year he proposed that American workers "work longer hours" as a means of fighting inflation. "This country has become great and powerful not by working a 40-hour week," the tall, bulky Missourian, who looks and talks like Harold Stassen, said.

Schwabe, however, sits down at his swivel chair in the sub-committee hearing room at 10 a.m. He knocks off at 12 for an hour and a half lunch period. He closes his shop at about four. That adds up

Hogan Opposes Plan for City To Buy Buses

Austin Hogan, president of CIO Transport Workers Union Local 100, yesterday condemned as "out and out company unionism" the proposal by TWU international president and dime fare sponsor Michael J. Quill, that the city immediately buy all the private bus lines.

Such a purchase, Hogan charged, would add 9,000 private bus line workers to the 40,000 city transit employees now "under the yoke of the vicious Condon-Wadlin law."

The private bus line workers, Hogan continued, "now have the right to withhold their labor if their wages, hours and working conditions do not suit them. The Condon-Wadlin law would deprive them of this fundamental right as it denies it to all government employees in the state of New York."

The Quill proposal was made at a meeting Friday of TWU members on the Third Avenue lines, Hogan said. He termed it of "more than passing interest" that at least one important newspaper immediately supported Quill's proposal "on the ground, among others, that it would minimize the threat of a strike by bringing all transit workers under city management and therefore under the state Condon-Wadlin Act which forbids that weapon to civil service workers."

WOULD DISARM WORKERS

Hogan accused Quill of offering a proposal which would "disarm the workers." He termed it "the logical and the inevitable result of the new wage policies adopted by Quill. As long as the Condon-Wadlin act remains on the books, Hogan declared, city transit workers have "virtually no bargaining power. Their bargaining power really depends on the strength which comes to them from the right and power of the workers on the private lines to strike."

Quill's proposal "would deprive us of this power," Hogan said. He said he would do "all in my power to rally transit workers and their friends" to oppose city purchase of "a single bus line until the detestable Condon-Wadlin law is repealed."

Another blast fired at Quill over the weekend came from Harry Sacher, ousted as counsel for Local 100 (he continues as counsel to the international union whose executive board recently condemned Quill for supporting Truman). Sacher said Quill, "who saw eye to eye with me on that (the wage) question for 14 years, has changed his ground. He now embraces wage theories which are nothing less than company-union theories."

SACHER RAPS QUILL

Sacher said that Quill's recently developed thesis is that workers can look for improvements in wages, hours and working conditions "only within the framework of an employer's ability to pay."

"I, on the other hand," he said, "adhere to the principle that every working man and woman has an inalienable right to a decent standard of life, which cannot be diminished by the claim on the part of any employer that he lacks the ability to pay."

It is Quill, Sacher charged, who has deserted the traditional TWU wage policies, through which "its members have won untold millions of dollars."

Commenting on his dismissal as counsel to Local 802 of the AFL Musicians, Sacher said: "Its executive board was reluctant, at the beginning of this year, to reengage me because I also represented Mr. Quill. The irony of the situation is that my services have now been terminated by that board because I no longer represent Mr. Quill."

3 Killed, 16 Hurt In Apartment House Gas Blast

By Harry Raymond

Three persons were killed and 16 injured in an early-morning explosion at 200 W. 108 St. yesterday. The disaster occurred in the building on the southwest corner of Amsterdam Avenue and 108th Street.

When Eugene Hurley, 35, disabled Marine veteran in apartment 4D turned on all four gas range jets in what police said was undoubtedly a suicide.

Killed along with Hurley were a young married couple in the apartment directly above, 5D. The explosion occurred at 5:45 a.m. It blew the 5D floor right up to the ceiling and down again, "like an accordion."

Slain were Arthur Yamner, 31, and his wife Rosette, 26, asleep in their bed at the time. Bloodstains on the ceiling where their bodies were flung and a blood-soaked mattress bore mute testimony to the Yamners' fate.

Mrs. Yamner, a bride from Liege, Belgium, had been here for three years and was a recent citizen. Her husband, a 9th Air Force vet, had just purchased a home under the GI Bill of Rights, and Mrs. Yamner's mother had been sent for to come and live here with them.

More fortunate were Mrs. Yamner's brother, Ferdinand Menz, 22, a tailor, and Joe Yiezl, 23, a friend, who were sleeping in the kitchen, and escaped injury.

Other residents of the building were F. Kottle and his wife, in 4G, who were not home when the blast blew the wall right through, wrecking their apartment, tossing the Hurley gas range through their wall and their own range into the hallway.

The tenant of the apartment below the suicide flat, Vigo Bodholt, in 3D, was away on vacation.

Tenants said that Hurley, whose wife had left him, had threatened previously to take his life.

The blast was heard for blocks away. One tenant, Miss Rose, who lived above the Hurley floor, described it as a powerful "clap of thunder."

The explosion completely wrecked

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12 (UP)—Henry Wallace launched the second swing of his campaign today with a lashing attack on President Truman as a pork barrel politician guided by vested interests. The Progressive Party Presidential candidate, in a speech for delivery here tonight, declared:

"Never in our history has the government been such a rich pork barrel for giant corporations . . . The Truman Administration has put Wall Street and the military in the saddle. I sat in his cabinet and I saw them seize his hands and guide them. Of the 125 men he appointed to key civilian jobs, 97 were men of big money or big brass. Congress didn't force the President to appoint such men. He chose them, and they render full service to the interests they represent."

Wallace challenged the President, who will open his own campaign in six days, to take action to convince the people he is "sincere about the program he preaches."

"Mr. President, you can pose, but you can't deliver the goods," Wallace said.

He challenged Truman to work for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law by working against the men who voted for it.

"If the President really wants to fight vested interests, if he really wants to repeal Taft-Hartley, if he really wants to bring down prices—he must oppose every Democratic Congressman in Maryland as well as each Republican," Wallace said. "All present (Congressmen) from Maryland, Democratic and Republican, voted aye" on the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Truman, he declared, is "consistently inconsistent" and "manages to be on both sides of every issue that comes along."

"He declared that he was happy to get rid of controls on meat prices and then called for new controls, after saying that controls were 'police state methods,'" Wallace said.

"He called for anti-labor legislation at the time of the railroad strike, condemns the Taft-Hartley law, but uses it vigorously to undermine the trade union movement."

"He pays lip service to extending civil rights, but he has not abolished segregation in the armed forces, and he has invoked his notorious loyalty order to create fear among civil servants."

"He accuses Congress and his Republican opponent of launching us on an era of fear, yet it is his own hysterical messages to Congress which have produced the fear now rampant in the greatest, richest country in the world."

Wallace also came out for government purchase and operation of the military airplane industry, "to take the profits out of fear."

"It is absolutely vital for the security of these United States that those corporations which cannot exist by peacetime production must be stopped from lobbying for militarism," he said. "It is intolerable that the methods of pork barrel

Progressives Ask Truman Fire Denham

The National Committee of the Progressive Party, holding its first meeting since the Party was formed in Philadelphia in July, charged President Truman with being "hypocritical" in his "sudden" opposition to the Taft-Hartley Act and challenged him "to use his influence as leader of the Democratic Party to oppose the re-election to Congress of all Democrats (106 in the House alone) who voted to override his veto of the Act."

The committee also challenged Truman "to make some atonement for his anti-labor past" by discharging his appointee, Robert Denham, from office as general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board "on account of his obvious anti-labor bias and his vindictive misuse of his powers against the labor movement."

Sixty-seven national committeemen and committee women from 29 states were represented in person or by proxy in a two-day session of the committee at the Hotel Commodore Friday and Saturday.

In its statement attacking President Truman's labor record the Committee charged that Truman and the Democratic Party "are as responsible for this vicious union-busting law as are the Republicans."

A 6-point resolution on Israel declared "the American people have seen too much double talk and pseudo action policy toward the new state" and demanded that President Truman:

"Extend full de jure recognition to Israel at once; lift the arms embargo; extend rehabilitation credits to Israel of $100,000,000 through the Export-Import bank; instruct our delegates to UN to call for full implementation by UN of the original participation decision; warn the British that they must stop arming the Arabs with ECA funds, and instruct our delegates to UN to demand immediate recognition of Israel as a full-fledged member of UN."

In a comprehensive resolution on civil rights, the Committee cited instances in Henry Wallace's recent Southern tour when attempts were made by organized hoodlums to break up meetings and called upon President Truman and Attorney-General Clark to "back up their public statements condemning this

'Yankee Doodle Rally' Makes History

By Abner W. Berry

It's more than news when 48,000 persons pay $78,000 to attend a political rally and then give another $58,000 in the collection. It's history. That history was made last Friday night in Yankee Stadium when a "Yankee Doodle" throng kicked in $136,000 to keep what William Gallimore, collection speaker, termed, "The only All-American team in the present election campaign" in the race.

The Rev. John Howard Melish, the aging rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Brooklyn, called attention in his prayer to other political leaders who have made the all-time team. Assisted to the platform by his son, Rev. William Howard Melish, the elderly rector brought the crowd to a hushed silence and prayed in the Anglican tradition, prefacing each supplication with the phrase: "O, God our help in ages past and hope for years to come."

He reminded in his prayer that—George Washington had been given to America when there was needed a man "to whom the wise and the prudent could resort . . ."

"Lincoln was sent 'when we were divided . . .'"

When the fancy that "we could live alone from other nations of the world," proved a fallacy, Woodrow Wilson was sent . . .

When "we thought we could carry on by ourselves behind tariff walls, You sent us Franklin D. Roosevelt." And he concluded with:

"In this time of wars and rumors of wars, when some say we must fight a nation once our ally . . . You have sent us Henry Wallace. . . . We ask to be brave and courageous with understanding in the fight for a better world . . . to become a nobler people."

Rev. Melish had asked his listeners to say "Amen" at the conclusion of the prayer if they agreed with its contents. The audience, which had listened reverently during the prayer, could not contain itself at its conclusion. There were a few "Amen!" and a spontaneous burst of applause.

The Stadium rally was All-American from its very name—Yankee Doodle Rally. American cultural forms—minstrel, musical comedy, folk poetry, jazz band, revival pulp—all went into making it. Avon Long, Negro musical comedy star, evoked roars of laughter and applause as he sang his parody of Gershwin's "Ain't Necessarily So." To the accompaniment of the Robbins Twins Hot Band, Long sang of Dewey and Truman:

"Should Dewey live 900 years

Bulgars Giving Barleycorn the Boot

SOFIA, Sept. 12 (UP).—Bulgaria's women, aided by nature and science, are winning a fight to keep their men out of the corner saloon and drive John Barleycorn from the Bulgarian home.

By using their feminine wiles, the ladies have persuaded the government to help make water the Bulgarian national drink. Saloons have been closed and men who are in the habit of tipping until they topple are being help up to public disgrace.

It is getting so dry in Bulgaria, in fact, that a fellow must have both luck and perseverance to get a nip of the stuff. He risks the possibility of a medical examination and perhaps hospital treatment.

Nature gave the prohibition campaign a boost by freezing most of the grape crop last year, with the result that the harvest was the worst on record. Then the Sofia University Medical College opened a department "to look for, study and treat habitual drunkards." It plans to boost them on the water wagon with clinical and hospital treatment, if necessary.

The women scored the greatest victory over demon rum. At their insistence, the Government has closed two-thirds of Bulgaria's saloons in the last year.

Also at women's insistence, the names of habitual drunkards are posted in the saloons still open. Bartenders are forbidden to serve them.

Officials said the government is counting on these obstacles to convert its drinkers. They figure that a man who manages to get a drink in the face of all those difficulties must have a thirst that cannot be controlled.

A high official of the Health Ministry said the campaign has had "very good results." Alcohol consumption was dropped sharply since the campaign started, he said.

"One very seldom now meets drunkards on the streets," he commented.

"A huge majority of the nation—especially the women—are greatly satisfied. Some people want to close all drinking places by way of referendum. Such referendums already have been carried out in some small towns and villages."

Vice-Premier Georgi Popov indicated that people have almost given up their quest for hard liquor.

"There is now," he said, "no mass frequenting of drinking places."

Registration On At Jefferson School Today

The Jefferson School of Social Science begins its fall registration today with a bigger, more varied and more elaborate program of courses than ever before in its history. According to David Goldway, executive secretary of the school, the sights have been set for an enrollment of 5,000 students in the more than 100 different courses given in nearly 200 sections at the School's main center at 575 Avenue of the Americas, plus an enrollment of another 1,000 to 1,500 at its 10 annexes.

A new feature is the organization of courses in Marxist economics and politics in a regular, systematic way. Another innovation is a number of short-term courses for trade unionists in several key industries. These special courses are in addition to such regular courses as Marxism and Labor, Trade Union Principles and Practice, and History of the Labor Movement in the U. S.

The most spectacular pre-registration response from students' reports Goldway, has been for the Institute of Marxist Studies. This is a special full-year. Students in the Institute, who are accepted only after interview, will come to class one evening a week from October, 1948, through June, 1949.

New courses are: Role of the Middle Class, with Mark Tarall; Human History: From Primitive Communism to Socialism, with Benjamin Paskoff; Marxism and Youth, with Louis Diskin and Marvin Shaw; Anthropology: The Nature of Man, with Francis Bartlett; Labor in American Literature, with Samuel Sillen; Tolstol and Dostoevski, with Francine Bradley; Culture and the Working Class, with Sidney Finkelstein; Learning to Sketch, with Herbert Kruckman.

Registration will continue through Oct. 2. The fee for most courses is $7 plus 50c library fee. A reduced rate of $5 is granted to groups of five or more registering through their organization.

AKRON, O., Sept. 12 (UP).—Two big-name dance band musicians and four Akron residents were arrested last night when a police raid disclosed the existence of a marijuana ring here.

Police captured Joseph Main, Jr., 18, Fred Greenwell, 22, and Marjorie Glasner, 24, with doped cigarettes in their possession when they raided a hotel room after other guests had complained of a noisy party.

No offensive against the enemy can be won without the 4 M's—material, manpower, morale and MONEY. We have the material, the manpower, the morale. But we need the money—$50,000 to help elect Simon W. Gerson, Communist and American Labor Party candidate for City Council and other progressive people's candidates in Brooklyn.

This is a crucial election battle. The only Communist candidate in

New York State is making Brooklyn an important people's arena for the state. We can make the bipartisan ward heelers crawl back into their clubhouse holes; we can smash their conspiracy to defraud and polltax 75,000 Brooklyn voters who named Peter V. coalition for peace, security, and democracy IF—WE GET THE MONEY.

To bring democracy back to New York City... to end police brutality... to smash the Taft-Hartley Slave Act... to curb the monopolists and bring down prices... to stop the fascist drive on Communists, progressives, peace-loving peoples... to help end the Wall St. push for war and world conquest.

CRC OFFERS AID TO SCOTTSBORO VICTIM

The Civil Rights Congress yesterday declared that it would defend Heywood Patterson, Scottsboro defendant who escaped Kilby Prison in Montgomery, Ala., if requested.

Defense of Patterson was offered in response to a letter from the now famous escaped prisoner addressed to William L. Patterson, national executive secretary of the Congress. The Scottsboro Boys, whose whereabouts are unknown, described to the CRC the brutal treatment accorded Negro prisoners in Alabama prisons, and charged that attempts had been made on his life during the 18 years he spent in jail. He is now 34 years old. The full text of his letter was carried in The Worker on Sept. 5.

"Heywood Patterson," the CRC secretary's statement read, "has taken what American justice denied him as a Negro." His escape, the CRC document contends, "can only be viewed by progressive Americans, white as well as black, with deepest sympathy."

CRC STATEMENT

The statement follows, in part:

"The Civil Rights Congress will defend the liberty of this man as the Abolitionists fought to protect the freedom of fugitive slaves, if Heywood Patterson appeals to it.

"Eighteen years have been stolen from Heywood Patterson. Under the inhuman system of Jimcrow and segregation which is based on hatred, slander and the division of peoples because of differences of race and color, a system sustained through terror... a man has been robbed of his every heritage as an American.

"The Congress calls upon the tens of thousands of Americans who supported the International Labor Defense (the organization which furnished the original defense for the nine Scottsboro Boys) in its battles for the lives of these boys to rally to defend this innocent man's freedom. Call upon President Truman to intercede with the Governor of Alabama to pardon this man. Call upon the Governor (of Alabama) to free this man. Send funds to the Congress so that Patterson can get whatever aid he may need...

"Decent thinking Americans have had enough of the disgraceful and inhuman practices of white superiority gangsters and those who have power but fail to use it to protect the rights of black Americans. The persecution of Negro citizens is the epitome of crime by government.

"The freedom of Heywood Patterson presents the CRC with a struggle that will take place along side the battle against police terror. This is one with the fight to prevent the frame-up of the 12 Communist leaders..."

Trial Ordered For Refusal to Serve Negroes

ECORSE, Mich., Sept. 12.—The first round in an anti-Jimcrow court fight was won here last week when Judge Miles N. Culahan ordered into court the owners of a drugstore accused under the Michigan Civil Rights Law of refusing to serve two Negroes. The hearing will be held Friday.

Donald and Burton Loveland, owners of Loveland's Drugstore, were accused by Mrs. Doris Lampley and Tom Neuson of repeatedly refusing to serve them at the store's soda fountain.

Judge Culahan's order is the first to be issued by a Michigan court in such a case. Another Ecorse Township judge, Alger Salliotte, dismissed a complaint, last spring, brought by Louis Jordan, aided by the NAACP. Later the fight was joined by the local chapter of Young Progressives of America, supported by State Senator Stanley Nowak and NAACP leaders. Attorney George Crockett was retained by the group.

Mourn Jinnah

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept. 12 (UP).—Prime Minister Liaquat ali Khan led this Moslem dominion in mourning today for its founder and first governor general, Mohammed ali Jinnah.

The 71-year-old "great leader of 13-month-old Pakistan died here last night after a long illness. He had just returned from Quetta, where he had been resting.

Picket School Board Today To Protest Bad Conditions

A picket line and demonstration before the office of the Board of Education, 110 Livingston St., Brooklyn, has been called for 10 a.m. today to protest overcrowding, unsanitary conditions and antiquated plant equipment in Manhattan elementary schools. Called

Packed Schools Open Today

New York schools open for the 1948-49 season today (Monday). Public schools will harbor 883,000 children, an increase of some 16,000 over last year's figures, meaning that city classrooms will be worse crowded than ever.

Authorities estimated an all-time record number of children, 75,000, to be exact, will begin their school careers today. However, the Board of Education anticipated a decline in enrollments in the high schools; about 300 in the all-day vocational schools and 6,500 in the academic high schools.

Roman Catholic parochial schools also reported a rise in enrollments. The registration of 142,500 students in the New York archdiocese was said to show an increase of 2,500 over last year. In Brooklyn, 135,000 were expected to enroll.

RITA JOHNSON, actress, who was hit on the head by a hair dryer with such force that an operation was necessary to remove a brain clot.

by the Joint Committee for Better Schools, chairman of which is Miss Mary Van Kleeck, sociologist and American Labor Party candidate in the 20th Senatorial District, the picketing demonstration follows the dispatch of telegrams both to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor William O'Dwyer on these conditions in the schools. Neither the governor nor the mayor have replied to the messages as yet.

Four schools in particular—PS 147 at Henry and Gouverneur Sts., PS 19 at 14th St. and First Ave., PS 86 at 1487 Lexington Ave. and PS 54 at 104th St. and Amsterdam Ave.—were cited as examples by the Committee, which invited both the Governor and the Mayor to visit them and see the conditions for themselves.

Typical of the conditions cited by the committee are:

Toilets off play-yard on first floor of four-story buildings; no playgrounds in schools; improper heating, cold and damp in winter; overcrowding and double sessions; kindergarten rooms in basement, and no soap or towels.

Organizations participating in the committee are Women for Wallace, Consumer and Tenants Councils, Young Progressives, Educators for Wallace, the American Labor Party and parent-teacher groups.

Philippine Volcano Wanes

MANILA, Philippines, Sept. 12 (UP).—Evacuation of Camiguin Island was ordered halted today because eruption of the Mt. Nibok-hibok volcano is subsiding, but the Red Cross said survivors face an acute food shortage.

Volcanologist Arturo Alcaraz reported a "marked decrease" in activity of the volcano and said persons still on the island faced no further danger from erupting lava or poisonous gases.

ALP to Use Films in Vote Campaign

Mobile film units dramatizing the need to vote will be part of the registration drive conducted by the American Labor Party and the State Wallace for President Committee.

The drive, which will get under way this week, will be the most intensive ever conducted by the ALP in the state.

Actual registration of New York City voters will take place in the election districts during the week beginning Sept. 27.

The movie units on wheels, arranged by the New York section of the National Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, will tour street rallies and indoor meetings. They will present graphically the why and the how both of registration and enrollment into the ALP.

The ALP and Wallace Committee have also worked out plans with the Young Progressives of America for a drive to bring out first voters and to get them to enroll in the Labor Party.

ALP spokesmen say they expect some 7,500,000 to register in the state this year. In the last Presidential contests, the registration figure was 7,200,000. At least 6,000,000 registrants are necessary, according to state law, if the polls are to be kept open until 9 p. m. on Election Day. If the figure is below this, they will close at 7.

Registration and enrollment can also take place next week centrally; that is, at the various borough election offices. Voters are being urged by the ALP to take advantage of this, wherever possible.

Those who will be out of town during the week of Sept. 27 have only until next Saturday to register centrally.

City CIO Stewards' Parley Sept. 25

The City CIO Council yesterday launched an intensive campaign to assure 100 percent registration of CIO members and their families.

A city-wide shop steward conference will be held Saturday, Sept. 25, from 1 to 5 P. M. at the City Center Casino, 135 West 55 St.

Congressmen Threaten UE Men in Indiana

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 12.—The investigation of the subcommittee of the House Education and Labor Committee, headed by Republican Congressman Gerald Landis and Ed Mitchell, founded Friday on the determination of the members of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, Local 813, to preserve their constitutional liberties.

Witness after witness stated that they were not refusing to answer questions but were demanding time for their counsel to be present so that they could be advised on their constitutional rights.

The committee asked such questions as, "Do you believe in God," "What church do you go to," "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist Party," "What union are you a member of," etc.

Witnesses subpoenaed included leaders of the local union and District 8 of the UE-CIO, such as Charles Wright, recording secretary; District 8; James Payne, business representative, Local 813; Herman Smithhart, recording secretary, Local 813, and rank and file workers from the shops.

Also subpoenaed were UAW members Al Smith, Elvis Swan and Kenneth Small. A subpoena was issued for William Sentner, district 8 president, but he was attending the UE national convention.

Rep. Mitchell asked the witnesses: "Do you think it would violate your constitutional rights if a group of people should get together and find out they could hide behind their constitutional rights and far and feather you?"

The committee tried to intimidate the witnesses by threatening the Mundt-Nixon bill would be passed and a number of the witnesses would find themselves in jail. Witnesses were threatened with jail sentences for contempt of Congress and perjury, and were reminded of what happened to Harold Christoffel in Wisconsin.

The main purpose of the hearing was brought out in the testimony of Joseph Kamps, attorney of the Bucyrus-Erie Co., when leading questions were asked him by Rep. Mitchell concerning the need for amending the Taft-Hartley Law.

Kamps insinuated that the union's contract demands were outrageous, such as the demand for top seniority for stewards and officers, a clause which is standard for practically all CIO contracts.

Theory alone can give the movement confidence . . .

UE Convention Condemns Marshall Plan

(Reprinted from late edition of The Worker)

By George Morris

A resolution condemning the ERP as big-business-controlled and as a program drawing this country "nearer to war," was adopted by a roll-call vote of 2,943 to 1,265 at the convention of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers Friday.

Adoption of the resolution, after a floor-debate, highlighted the final day of the UE's parley in Manhattan Center.

Among other major victories of the UE's administration over the disruptive red-baiting Carey-Block group were:

Nearly unanimous reaffirmation of a policy of boycotting the Taft-Hartleyized National Labor Relations Board and refusal to sign T-H affidavits.

Approval by an overwhelming majority of the political stand and resignation from CIO-PAC by the officers of the UE.

Passage by an overwhelming vote of an omnibus Civil Rights resolution which demands an end of "loyalty" oaths and "to all persecution for political beliefs and militant anti-fascist activity."

Full approval of the report of the officers and their stand on all major issues.

The forces of James B. Carey had high hopes for a heavy vote for their minority report praising ERP and the Truman doctrine. They purposely loaded their resolution with pious "feed Europe" language and plenty of lofty words about "labor implementation" of the ERP to make it wonderful. The Marshall planners were encouraged by the announced support of ERP by several delegates who are otherwise on the administration's side. Notable among them were five of the 10 delegates of president Albert Fitzgerald's own Local 202 of Lynn, Mass.

The vote for ERP compares with a roll-call strength of 912 that the Carey-Block forces drew for their presidential campaign resolution and the votes of their three candidates of 594, of 712, and of 838. Noting the 20-billion outlay for U. S. armaments, the UE resolution said:

"It cannot be a policy of aid to the common people of the world that requires $20,000,000,000 worth of armaments to enforce and has brought about in the United States a war economy that keeps driving prices up, maintains the scarcity of consumer goods, results in a steady week-by-week deterioration of the living standards of the people of the United States and is a source of division among nations."

The political action resolution declares:

"We have learned that we can expect nothing different from the Wall Street boss-ridden Democratic Party than from the Big Business Republican Party. We

Queuille's Gov't Faces Assembly

PARIS, Sept. 12 (UP).—Premier Henri Queuille's cabinet met for the first time today. He will present his cabinet to the National Assembly for approval on Tuesday. Then on Friday he must appear before the assembly again with a plan for cutting food prices while raising $240,000,000 to meet the government's deficit for this year.

Rightist leader Gen. Charles de Gaulle stumped southern France in an effort to create a demand for new general elections.

De Gaulle cannot come to power in France unless new elections are held because his rally of the French people is not officially represented in the assembly.

Arabs Shell Jerusalem In Biggest Truce Attack

JERUSALEM, Sept. 12 (Combined U. S. Press).—The heaviest daylight shelling since the truce was declared eight weeks ago rocked this Holy City this morning and this afternoon. A Jewish communique said one soldier was killed in northern Jerusalem when Arabs heavily shelled Israeli positions there. Jewish forces replied by shelling Arab gun emplacements, the communique said. Three Jews were killed yesterday.

The communique asserted that the Arabs, for the second day, shelled the Jewish agricultural training school, inside the newly-neutralized Red Cross zone in southern Jerusalem.

The Arabs took up positions near the former Government House which also is inside the zone, the communique said.

Arab shells in northern Jerusalem were fired against Jewish positions on Mt. Zion and in the Deir Abu Tor sectors, the communique reported.

The English-language Palestine Post editorialized today: . . .

"It is eight weeks since the second truce in Palestine began and there are still no signs of what the truce should lead to—talks toward peace.

"... Unless (United Nations mediator) Count Bernadotte has other information not made public, there seems no purpose in the truce except to permit the Security Council to continue to shrink the Palestine issues."

"The truce, which the Arabs reserve the right to end at their convenience, is a lie and should be exposed when the General Assembly meets."

Meanwhile, two members of the Soviet Union's legation in Tel Aviv arrived in Jerusalem to establish a liaison office for handling Russian property here.

8 Greeks Flee To Yugoslavia

ATHENS, Sept. 12.—Eight armed Greek passengers overpowered the crew of an Athens to Salonika commercial airliner today and forced the pilot to land the plane in Yugoslavia.

In a preliminary report by Greek air force officials, investigating at Salonika, the plane was identified as a Dakota belonging to TAE, a Greek affiliate of TWA. The report said the rebellious passengers were Communists.

The plane carried a total of 20 passengers.

The pilot was allowed to take off again for Salonika where he made an emergency landing near the city without injury to the remaining passengers or damage to the plane.

B-29s Fly to Europe For 'Attack' on U. S.

WESTOVER FIELD, Mass., Sept. 12 (UP).—Eleven B-29 bombers took off from Westover Field for Europe today in preparation for an "attack" on the United States Saturday.

The planes will make up part of a force of 50 which will participate in mock bombing attacks on 50 American cities in observance of Air Force Day.

Gov't Set to Parade Stoolpigeons Against Claudia Jones

The stage is set for the Immigration and Naturalization Service to parade its stoolpigeon brigade today at 70 Columbus Ave., against Claudia Jones, Negro Communist leader.

Miss Jones, a native of Trinidad, has lived for more than 24 of her 33 years in the United States, but is now held for deportation.

As a Communist Miss Jones has participated in the defense of the Scottsboro Boys and Angelo Herndon, aided in organizing the CIO industrial unions, fought for the passage of now defunct American Youth Act and has generally been a part of all causes aimed at creating a more democratic atmosphere in America. A graduate of Hunter College, she has been an editor and editorial worker since leaving school.

As she prepares to defend herself against charges of having harmed America, the authorities, it is indicated, are reaching into their Jimcrow pool of stoolpigeons for "witnesses" against her.

STOOGES WHO'S WHO

Previously there have been four professional Negro "star witnesses" regularly used by the Un-Americans. These are Manning Johnson, who testified against John Santo, the Transport Workers Union leader, charged similar to Miss Jones; William O'Dell Nowell, a frequent witness for the Congressional Un-American Committee; George Hewlitt, Communist renegade and FBI finger man, and Charles White, a former member of the Young Communist league who has been able to earn an extra dollar as an Un-American witness on occasion.

Johnson, expelled from the AFL food workers union for financial irregularity and drunkenness, and who deserted his wife and small children, is a pillar of Americanism for Tom Clark.

Hewlitt is a plain stoolpigeon who was a liaison man for the police while he was a member of the Communist Party, is now considered a Negro "Communist specialist" by the experts in Jimcrow and deportation.

Nowell was dragged from the gutters of Hastings St., in Detroit, where he existed for a long time in a drunken stupor, to ride the Un-American horse to fame and fortune.

White, a sometime nationalist, longtime wife deserter, and a seeker after the quick dollar with no responsibility attached, is not averse to pocketing the taxpayers' cash for a few well-delivered lies.

Today, and throughout the so-called "hearings" it will be men and women who have given their lives to the cause of America against those whose very lives are trademarks of degeneration — and treachery.

Set Up B'klyn Body to Aid ALP

The formation of a Brooklyn citizens' committee to support the election of the five judicial candidates of the American Labor Party of Kings County and Richmond was announced yesterday by David L. Weissman, chairman of the organization with headquarters at 314 Fulton St., Brooklyn.

The committee is sponsored by 66 professional men and women, prominent in their communities and active in labor and civic affairs.

COLUMBIA PROFESSOR HEADS ACADEMIC FREEDOM GROUP

Prof. Harlow Shapley, of Harvard University, announced yesterday that the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions had set up a commission for Academic Freedom to safeguard the "freedom to teach and freedom to learn" in American schools.

Prof. Clyde R. Miller, of Teachers College, Columbia University, will be president of the new organization. It will be sponsored by nationally known educators, such as Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago; Prof. Erwin Panofsky, Institute of Advanced Studies, Princeton; Prof. Frank L. Cameron, University of North Carolina; Dr. Stuart Mudd, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Cecil E. Hinshaw, president of William Penn college, and Dr. William R. Sears, director of Graduate School of Aeronautical Engineering, Cornell.

Plans Contempt Charge Against Indiana UE Men

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 12.—Rep. Gerald W. Landis (R-Ind.), said today he would file contempt of Congress citations against 26 persons accused of refusing to testify in a House subcommittee labor investigation here.

The committee held a two-day hearing into "charges" that Local 813 of the CIO Electrical Workers Union, which led a strike against the Bucyrus-Erie Co. plant, is Communist-dominated.

Social Service Workers Ask Arbitration

The Social Service Employees Union, Local 19, UOPWA-CIO, yesterday announced proposals to the seven New York social service agencies with whom it has been in joint negotiations since June 27, that they agree to protect services to the community from interruption. Local 19 offered to submit the entire dispute to arbitration to guarantee a peaceful settlement. Agency representatives, however, said they were unwilling to accept arbitration at this time, the union declared.

Local 19's membership, which met last Wednesday night to hear reports of the joint negotiations, approved a resolution to take all actions "up to and including a strike" if the agencies reject their offer of a peaceful settlement by arbitration. The members specifically authorized the union to call a "work holiday in the near future," and instructed the union to take necessary steps to protect their clients' welfare.

The SSEU is asking for minimum salaries of $65 weekly for professional case workers, $40 for office workers, and improved overtime and severance pay.

Wallace to Speak Over NBC Tonight

Tonight, in the first of a series of seven Monday night broadcasts over the full NBC network (10:30-10:45 P. M., EDT), Henry Wallace will give a personal report to the people on his experience during his recent trip through the South.

O. B. Baldwin, Progressive Party campaign manager, announced last Thursday that the special NBC series had been purchased by the Progressive Party so Mr. Wallace could answer directly those questions which the people wanted him to answer. However, Baldwin said that because of the intense interest in Mr. Wallace's trip through the South Mr. Wallace will devote tonight's broadcast to this personal report on the trip.

The remaining six programs will Wallace will answer questions follow the original plan and Mr. written to him at Progressive Party headquarters, 39 Park Avenue, New York 16, N. Y., Baldwin added.

UE PARLEY CONDEMNS ERP

have learned that only Congressmen independent of machine control, because they are supported by independent voters, can be counted on really to fight for the people's interest.

"We have learned that only to the degree that we can build genuine independent political activity and strength can we expect to reverse the devastating course of the 80th Congress. Such genuinely independent political action has been the repeatedly stated aim of the UE. We restate this aim emphatically in 1948."

CONGRESS TEST

The resolution declares that Congressional candidates of all parties will be tested only on their record, irrespective of party.

"The CIO-PAC which now pledges consideration exclusively to the old parties and utterly repudiates the new Progressive Party abandons the traditional non-partisan independent approach," the resolution went on.

"Such a change makes it impossible to achieve the aim of a progressive Congress because it has in fact made the CIO-PAC the instrument of the Democratic Party. Hence we approve the action of the general officers in fighting against this partisanship in PAC and support their decision to leave PAC until it has returned to its healthy founding principles of independent non-partisan political action."

In reaffirming its 1947 convention stand to boycott the Taft-Hartley Board, the UE's resolution noted that all its predictions have come true. "Only employers benefited" by use of the law, the resolution said, and "red-baiting has advanced to an unprecedented extent" as a result of the law's operation.

The Civil Rights resolution raps the 80th Congress for ignoring the needs of the people. Instead, says the resolution, the "people have been treated to shoddy and sensational 'spy' scares and investigations."

"Stoolpigeons, informers and degenerate liars have been glorified by congressional committees while decent fighting Americans and their organizations have been slandered and hounded," the resolution went on.

Attacks upon progressive candidates "by organized bands of hoodlums, with the connivance and assistance of the police" are also denounced.

DEPORTATION DRIVE

Another section hits at the deportation drive aimed at people who are innocent of "illegal acts against the government."

President Truman's civil rights report is viewed as recognition of the "demand of the people for action."

"However, action speaks louder than words," the convention stressed, pointing to the President's failure to end segregation in the armed services.

"The rights of Negroes and other minority groups requires more than lip service," said the resolution.

"Loyalty purges," the Mundt-Nixon Bill and the "star chamber" witch-hunts are denounced as a pattern to establish government approval of union officers.

"We call for abolition of the Thomas Un-American Committee and state that any union member who cooperates with it betrays his union," declares the resolution.

A special resolution was passed condemning the Hartley Committee of the House now conducting a witch-hunt in the UE and other progressive-led unions. An earlier convention resolution branded Carey a stooge of the committee for cooperating with its smear efforts against his own union.

Another resolution pledged full support to the defendants in the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee case and urged moral and financial support of their fight.

Support was reaffirmed for the World Federation of Trade Unions which is now under attack of the CIO's right wing.

Ben Gold at House Hearing Blasts 'Union-Hater Lies'

By Mel Fiske

(Reprinted from late edition of The Worker)

WASHINGTON.—Charges that "evil-minded, frustrated union-haters" have filled the ears of a House Labor Sub-committee with "irresponsible lies, deliberate falsehoods and fabrications" were leveled Friday by Ben Gold, president of the CIO Fur and Leather Workers union.

Gold challenged the two-man subcommittee to give him an "equivalent amount of time" to submit documentary evidence refuting the testimony presented by a parade of fur manufacturers and industry associations.

The union president said he would offer documentary proof that George Greenberg and William Pike, officials of the Associated Fur Manufacturers, "cooperated fully with underworld gangsters" who murdered union organizers. The two had testified against the union Thursday.

The counter-blast against committee witnesses who have appeared before Reps. Max Schwabe (R-Mo) and Wingate Lucas (D-Tex) brought an angry retort from a fur association vice-president, Harry Bloom.

Bloom said Gold's statement was an illustration of the "smear" tactics applied by the union. Then he proceeded to smear the union president, the Greater New York CIO Council and other union leaders.

Confessing he had no complaints against Gold or the union until two months ago, Bloom said Gold is "honorable." But when Gold fights for more wages for fur workers, he said, his word is worthless—absolutely worthless.

ASKS TOUGHER T-H

Bloom indicated that he changed his mind about Gold because the fur union had backed the Fur Manufacturers Association into a corner. He pleaded with labor subcommittee members to toughen the Taft-Hartley Law. He said non-complying unions are in a better position than those that comply with the law.

Citing the recent picket line around the Gimbel department store as an example of "insurrection," Bloom also called on Congress to prevent mass picketing. "Every union should be told to picket only its own business," he recommended.

"When the CIO council can get pickets from every other union in New York, you've got trouble. It can happen in the fur business," he contended.

His voice rising as he recounted his dealings with Gold, Bloom almost shouted, "There's some power behind" the union president. He didn't know who or what the power was, he said shiftily, but he believed it might be the Kremlin, or PAC or the CIO Council.

Representatives of Fur Dressers and Dyers didn't go so far as they took their turn before the committee. In fact, Lloyd Graff, executive director for the Fur Dressers and Dyers Association, maintained fur union leaders had performed good work.

Albert Feldman, a vice-president of A. Hollander & Sons, described fur union leaders as a "very resolute bunch of men."

"When they set their caps for a

Report Hyderabad Village Captured

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept. 12 (UP).—Indian troops reportedly surged across the border of independent Hyderabad today, capturing the village of Afzarpur, three miles inside the frontier.

Reports reaching here said that the village was bombed from the air before ground troops seized it.

(In Poona, India, an officer of India's southern army dismissed the report as "complete nonsense.")

There are 11 waterfalls within an 11-mile section of the Columbia River highway east of Portland, Ore. The highest is Mtnomah Falls, which tumbles 620 feet.

Wallace Meets Farm Leaders Tomorrow

Henry Wallace, Progressive Party candidate for President, will hold a two-day conference with Progressive Party farm leaders in Chicago tomorrow and Wednesday.

Wallace will address a rally at Wrigley Field, Chicago, tomorrow, being staged by the Progressive Party of Illinois.

In the two-day parley with some of his leading farmer supporters, the former Secretary of Agriculture will discuss the problems of family-type farmers. The Party's platform sets as its goal a minimum $3,000 a year income for all farm families.

Wallace will be accompanied by his campaign manager, C. B. Baldwin, former Farm Security Administrator.

Following the farm conference, Wallace will speak in Buffalo, N. Y., Thursday night, in Rochester Friday and in Boston Saturday.

Clark Can Be Stopped

WHEN Federal Judge Simon Rifkind ruled that the Communist leaders now under indictment had the right to travel where they pleased, he did more than cancel the vindictive, petty persecution of Attorney General Tom Clark and his underlings.

Clark and his local federal attorney, John F. X. McGohey, fought bitterly in the courts to bar the Communist leaders from getting around while they were out on bail on a phony charge of building an organization which "advocates force and violence."

What Judge Rifkind said, in effect, was that the activities of the Communist Party could not be prejudged; that they could not be assumed to be illegal before the court case actually takes place.

As far as we are concerned, the court decision, no matter how it goes, will prove nothing. The charge that the Communist Party advocates or teaches overthrow of the government is a false, vicious lie promoted to suppress political opposition to the ruinous course of our Wall Street-dominated government. The courts, too, are creatures of the ruling circles.

But the point is that both the government and congressional circles have been doing precisely what Judge Rifkind has now ruled is impermissible. They have prejudged the activities of the Communist Party, and are acting as if it has already been formally declared guilty of a crime.

Thus, the immigration authorities have taken it upon themselves to prosecute allegedly alien Communists for deportation as members of an organization "teaching force and violence."

Clark has set up lists of proscribed organizations on that count. People have been barred from entering the country on this assumption. And the persecution of the Un-American Activities Committee proceeds on the same basis.

Plainly, these actions are illegal and violate the elementary freedom which is supposed to be the heritage of every American. We said this before Judge Rifkind's decision, and our position is now reinforced by it.

The decision also demonstrates that militant resistance to the tyrannous persecutions of the witch-hunters, when backed by mass action, can win victories despite the hysterical atmosphere. It follows the release of the deportees who went on a hunger strike last spring, and the defeat of the Mundt-Nixon bill.

It should be followed up by a similar, and even wider, mass drive to free the 12 indicted Communist leaders, whose trial is set for Oct. 15.

Why They Vote for Communists

REP. LUCAS of Texas, member of the House committee now "investigating" the Fur Workers Union, says he is puzzled by the fact that non-Communist workers elect Communists to union office.

If the Texas gentleman is genuinely bewildered by this fact, it is clear he is a victim of the propaganda of his own congressional associates. We are glad to clear up his confusion for him.

Non-Communists vote for Communist union officials because they know that these officials, by their single-minded devotion, their militant working class policies, their incorruptibility, are the people they can depend upon most to fight for the things they need. In most cases, these officials were the ones who built the unions.

The non-Communist workers have learned from long experience that dragging the Communist issue into the unions is a boss-inspired effort to divide them and to drive out the best and most militant leaders on a phony basis.

They have discovered that a Communist union official is the most dependable leader of all.

This is why non-Communists will often vote for a Communist for union leadership.

As We See It

Walter White Forgets
The Petition to UN

By Abner W. Berry

DR. W. E. B. Du BOIS is boiling mad. In fact his anger is boiling over onto paper so that all of us can look at it and examine it. I did, and found that it has nothing in common with the small anger of those who can't get beyond personal likes and dislikes.

Dr. Du Bois is angry at imperialism; he thinks that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which he helped found 40 years ago, should not be used to advance a program against the colored peoples of the world.

The board of directors of the NAACP has given Walter White, the organization's executive secretary, the right to represent it as a consultant at the invitation of the U. S. mission to U. N. White leaves for Paris today, according to Du Bois, with no program relating to foreign policy except that of the American delegation.

AS FOR THE American delegation's program, Dr. Du Bois is most bitter. In a letter to the NAACP board protesting White's consultantship as tying the "organization to the foreign policy of the present administration," he defined that foreign policy as it relates to colored peoples as:

1. Barring discussion of "our civil rights" in the UN Assembly, and refusing to allow any other nation to bring the matter up.
2. U. S. collaboration "with the imperial powers" against India and Indonesia and "straddling on Israel."
3. Despoiling Ethiopia and generally acting against the interests of colonial peoples.

Dr. Du Bois further accused some of the leaders of the NAACP of carrying on political activity in behalf of Truman while trying to silence his voice in behalf of the third party. And he warned that if the NAACP were "loaded on the Truman bandwagon . . . we are headed for a tragic mistake."

Those are angry words from a man who knows well how to direct his anger. The NAACP board has honored his request for a foreign policy discussion which it will hold today—after Walter White has sailed for Paris aboard the U. S. S. America.

Looking at White's trip to Paris from another angle one sees that the "cold war," to "contain" the Soviet Union has struck the largest Negro rights organization.

IT'D LIKE to document Dr. Du Bois' angry arguments with some observations made touring the South with Wallace.

First: one overall fact—Truman and Sen. J. Howard McGrath are practically bowing to the Dixiecrats to turn back and support the national Democratic ticket this fall. For a President who deals in civil rights phrases more freely than any other in history this is a fact worth noting for those seeking for the intent behind the words.

Where Wallace challenged the Dixiecrats and appealed to their enemies—Negroes and progressive whites—for support. Truman tries to lure them with a wheedle.

Fact Number Two: Looking down the jeering mouths of the Dixiecrats for seven straight days, it was hard to determine which group they considered the enemy to be exterminated—the Russians or the Negroes. The "enemy" varied according to location.

Then there are a few questions: What is the representative of the NAACP to be consulted on in Paris? He can't be consulted on civil rights in line with the program adopted by the NAACP and presented to UN last year—Mrs. Roosevelt and Jonathan Daniels killed that last December at the Human Rights Commission meeting in Geneva.

There is a chance that the petition—or parts of it—will be presented to the Assembly as an amendment to the commission's report. But I'm willing to bet my typewriter that the amendment comes only from a country "behind the iron curtain." As an American consultant, is Walter White, militant leader of the largest organization fight for Negro rights in America, called upon at that point to advise the American delegation on how to defeat these pesky Russians?

THE "COLD WAR" against Russia, the red-baiting of Henry Wallace, the "spy" hunts in America and the militant white supremacists in the South, when viewed from this perspective, are shown in their true light. Dr. Du Bois has indicated the whole tragic trend to be just what it is—an anti-Communist crusade against freedom.

I hope that Walter White took with him a copy of the NAACP petition to UN. I hope that he reads his own remarks made on Oct. 23, 1947, when the petition was presented: "The NAACP is not a political but a militant civil rights organization dedicated to the principle that no man is free until all men are free."

In the petition, Dr. Du Bois wrote: "In this great attempt to find common ground and to maintain peace, it is therefore fitting and proper that the 13,000,000 American citizens of Negro descent should appeal to the United Nations and ask that organization in the proper way to take cognizance of a situation which deprives this group of their rights as men and citizens."

Dr. Du Bois is not taking a word away from what he wrote then. He is fighting for its realization. His letter to the NAACP deserves an answer.

And before he sails Walter White should assure those whom he will represent in Paris that he is pushing the same program that the NAACP was pushing on Oct. 23, 1947.

This is no time to pull political chestnuts from the fire at the expense of an international movement for civil rights and peace.

By Elizabeth Gurley Flynn
THE REASON is apparent, yes, transparent, for rushing the cases of several well-known Communists, who are among the 57 foreign-born workers, at present held by the Department of Justice for deportation. It is to help create a super-charged atmosphere around the forthcoming trials of the 12 Communist leaders.

The first deportation hearing is scheduled for today at 9:30 a.m. at the office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, 70 Columbus Ave., 62 St. It is the case of Claudia Jones, secretary of the Woman's Commission of the Communist Party.

It is announced that the hearings of Alexander Bittleman, Beatrice Siskin and Jack Stachel will follow in the next two weeks. Each of these people came here at an extremely early age, were educated here, have their families here and are in every sense Americans.

The moth-eaten charge against them is that they belong to the Communist Party, "an organization that advocates force and violence."

Tom Clark and the Department of Justice are planning to pull a fast one here—to try out first in a series of deportation hearings the same charges that are already leveled at the 12 leaders of the Communist Party, and which are soon to be tried before a jury in a Federal Court.

Why the unseemly haste? In the case of Stachel, it is actually being tried twice for the same charge, a flagrant violation of Article V of the Constitution. But what's the Constitution to Tom Clark, reared in Texas, where they throw it out the window whenever it conflicts with their white supremacy theories?

THERE ARE several aspects of deportation proceedings which radically differ from a court trial, with all the red-tape and difficulties that exist there to prevent a fair and impartial trial. It's even worse in deportation hearings, which are star chamber, held before an immigration inspector. The burden of proof is not on the government, as in a trial. There is no presumption of innocence until proven guilty. Just the opposite prevails in deportation hearings. The burden of proof is on the accused.

In effect, Uncle Sam challenges each foreign-born defendant, "Show why we should not deport you." There is no jury. The defendant cannot be represented by a lawyer, who may be present but who cannot question or cross-examine witnesses. Only after the inspector makes his recommendations can an appeal be taken against it to a court.

What will happen today in hearings against the young woman Communist leader of the Negro people, Claudia Jones, will be a stream of stoolpigeon witnesses—several of them Negroes, be it said to their shame, who will pour forth lies, slander, and perjury against her. There will be that lowest-of-the-low, Louis Budenz, who will join in the frame-up, blessed by Monsignor Sheen.

It is a cheap shabby procedure to have an advance rehearsal of serious political charges, soon to be tried before a Federal Court, held now by an immigration inspector. If they have any real respect for Federal Court proceedings it would not be tolerated by the Administration. But everybody's tossing the red herring into somebody else's lap these days—for reasons of partisan politics. So the courts are made ridiculous by this defiance of all customary legal procedure. Mr.

Life of the Party

Truman wants to steal the spotlight from the Un-American Committee, who are announcing another atom bomb act this week.

SOMETIMES I'm sure you ask yourself, do protests help? Does writing letters to public officials register? Do picket lines, mass delegations, resolutions, have any effect? You bet they do.

A dead silence spells complete agreement to the authorities. But if enough people speak out in strong and vigorous protest, politicians have their ears to the ground, especially around election. It does have an effect.

A recent example was the lifting of the ban on the 12 Communist leaders' traveling outside of proscribed areas.

Let us not forget how effective the hunger strike was in securing the release on bail from Ellis Island of the four hunger strikers.

Therefore, I suggest that letters expressing your views of this deportation farce go to Attorney General Clark at once. Tell him what you think of a splendid young woman like Claudia Jones being harassed and threatened in this disgraceful manner. Negro men and particularly women should speak their minds as to a phony "Civil Rights" program which includes deportation for political activities and views of Negro people born in the West Indies, on the testimony of stool-pigeons like Tim Holmes—now stooging for Dubinsky.

The Committee for the Protection of the Foreign-Born reports that of the 57 people under attack, 21 are trade unionists, 40 of them have tried unsuccessfully over a period of years to become citizens; and 20 had application pending at the time of their arrests. They reside in 14 states and come from 22 different countries, so they did not all come from Russia.

All foreign-born are menaced by these attacks. Let us voice our protest in large numbers and vigorously—by letters, meetings, picket lines.

City CIO Asks Unified Body

The Greater New York CIO Council announced it had sent "fraternal invitations" to local CIO unions not now part of the Council to affiliate so that there could be "a unified CIO movement" to fight "mounting reaction" and attacks on the whole of the CIO.

A letter by James Durkin, president, and Saul Mills, secretary of the CIO Council, to each non-affiliate in the city, contain a challenge to those CIO leaders who lately have been publicly attacking the Council to "join and exercise your claimed majority to change the policies of the Council and replace its present officers."

Non-affiliates joining the CIO Council before Oct. 7, will be eligible to participate in the nomination and election of officers in November and December, it is pointed out.

politics should bring the risk of war."

Wallace and Paul Robeson, the Negro singer, were guests of honor here today at a reception attended by some 300 persons at the Gillars Memorial Church.

In a brief speech, Wallace recalled the recent indictment of 22 persons who took part in an interracial tennis match here, and the city park board's subsequent ruling that Negroes and whites must be the city's public courts on separate dates.

"The United States is not completely safe until I can play mixed doubles with Paul Robeson on any public court in the country," he said.

Wallace also referred to his egg-and-tomato reception during his tour of the South, noting that he was not the first member of his family to be "egged."

"Everett James Howell White, my great grandfather, was egged in Ohio because he was an abolitionist and helped operated an underground railroad for escaping slaves," he said.

"My grandfather refused to do anything about the egg stains on his home until they were washed off by the rains from heaven," he added. "I remembered that, and that's why I refused to change my egg-stained shirt in the South."

By Mel Fiske

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—Henry Wallace today challenged President Truman to oppose the reelection of two Maryland Democratic Congressmen who sided with Republicans to override Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley Law.

He maintained that the power of the Tydings Democratic machine controlled Truman and would not allow the President to disown Reps. George Fallon and Lansdale Sasser, national Democratic machine and part of the "bi-partisan Frankenstein."

His address came on the second anniversary of the Madison Square Garden speech that Truman seized on to bounce Wallace out of his cabinet. "In that speech, I said . . . that those who preach the inevitability of war are criminals . . ." he reminded.

He pointed to the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Glenn L. Martin Aircraft as two Baltimore industries that have profited from the militarization of the nation.

One of the sources of danger in Berlin has its roots in Baltimore, Wallace revealed. He charged that the Hugo Stinnes Corp., which controls seven billion tons of Ruhr Valley Coal, maintains its offices in this city. The corporation is directed by George E. Allen, one of Truman's closest advisors, and is attempting to recreate "a Germany run by militarists," he asserted.

'YANKEE DOODLE RALLY' MAKES POLITICAL HISTORY

We'd all shed a tear in our beers. Our Albany resident wants to be President—

He says to the White House he'll go.

But I'm preaching this sermon to show

It ain't necessarily so.

"I've heard it said by way of mouth

That Truman plays piano, no doubt.

He plays on the white keys
But not on the black keys
He's afraid of offending the South."

FIRST OVATION

Congressman Vito Marcantonio's name, when mentioned by the chairman Rep. Leo Isacson, brought forth the evening's first ovation.

The crowd stood and cheered as the slight-statured ALP leader strode over the plank walk erected from the visitors' dugout to the speakers' stand just back of second base.

Marcantonio, his face lifted and his right arm describing circles just above his head, challenged in impassioned oratory Mayor William O'Dwyer's anti-Communist program. He recited the American Labor Party's program for a five-cent subway fare, opposition to the Un-American Activities Committee, against police brutality, segregation and discrimination, for peace and for defense of the rights of Communists.

He described the defense of munists as the "defense of American democracy."

"That is the program of the American Labor Party!" he boomed. And paraphrased: "If that be Communism, Mayor O'Dwyer, then we accept the challenge! If that be Communism—then we are Communist. I say that we are going to go forward with our program despite the bipartisan war program—and to hell with red-baiting!"

Langston Hughes, Negro folk poet, dramatist and newspaper columnist, read a poem which ended in the words: "We who are for Wallace want the world turned back to the people."

The night before, when rain postponed the meeting, Hughes sat on the field in the rain. This correspondent greeted him then as he crouched under a press table for protection.

REVIVAL SERMON

Many persons attending the rally heard for the first time a sermon in the manner of the southern revival meetings delivered by the Negro actor, Richard Huey.

After the singing of a parody on the Negro spiritual, "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho, Huey preached: "As Joshua stood before the walls of Jericho, So stands Henry Wallace before the walls of Wall St." The sermon described Wall St. as "the city of the Golden Calf wherein dwelleth the money changers and the gamblers . . . who reapeth the harvest they soweth not."

As William Gailmor began his collection talk, reporters and photographers drifted over to take up positions in front of the visitors to get the first shots of Wallace as he emerged. A detail of policemen had to hold back members of the audience who climbed into the top of the dugout and swarmed around the area.

Not once did the audience fret as the collection went past 11 o'clock. Checks and bills continued to flow into the three baskets on the platform. Ushers scurried in relays of five and six, servicing each section of the immense floodlighted stadium, offered the only touch of athletic activity as they dashed the 70-yard distance over the grassy field from grandstand to platform. GIVE $25,000

About $25,000 was given by labor groups, topped by $10,000 from the Wallace Committee in the CIO-fur workers union. Gailmor quipped upon receiving large contributions from Mrs. Mary Cabot Macy and Mrs. Eleanor Gimbel, "Now how about Oppenheim Collins and some other department store, names?" There were boos from the stands at the mention of those stores whose executives have used the Taft-Hartley law to attack their unionized employees.

At 11:25 p.m., Marcantonio, then acting as chairman, presented Henry Wallace. The noises of a New Year's Eve and Fourth of July broke over the stadium. Newspaper confetti drifted to the field like an early winter snow as Wallace, flanked front and rear by three policemen, clambered from the dugout and walked to the platform. For 10 minutes he was unable to quiet the crowd by waving his hands with open palms downward. Marcantonio quieted them when he took the mike and informed them that the meeting had to end at 12 midnight "or cost more money."

Wallace began his speech with interpolated remarks on the Berlin crisis not contained in his prepared speech given the press. Most papers, including the Daily Worker, did not report these remarks in earlier stories.

Reacting to the day's headline news from Berlin, he said: "We condone neither German stoning nor Russian shooting in Berlin . . ." Only scattered applause greeted the remark. And he continued, ". . . Democracy must be peacemaker." The applause increased for the latter sentence.

CALLS ROBESON

Once again Wallace departed from his text to call Paul Robeson to the platform. Standing in a half embrace of the great Negro singer, the presidential candidate dramatized his determination to fight Jim Crow with: "I want to make it possible for Paul to stay in the same hotel with me anywhere in America—and that goes for Mr. Lawrence Brown (Robeson's accompanist), and for millions of others."

The audience witnessed the drama in silence for a moment and then thundered applause for the meaning behind the words Wallace had spoken.

Earlier Robeson had thrilled the crowd with renditions of the Song of Haganah, Old Man River and Go Down Moses. The first bar of Old Man River was applauded and the singer was almost interrupted by applause when he paraphrased "Git a little drunk and you'll land in jail" into "Git a little spunk." In a moving speech he told the applauding throng that "the Negro people, regardless of party affiliation, are united with Henry A Wallace by a bond of friendship which no power can break."

organized violence by Federal action to guarantee the rights of freedom of assembly and speech to all citizens of the United States."

The resolution condemned the U. S. government's Jim Crow system in the Panama Canal Zone and called upon President Truman to pardon United Public Workers organizer Joseph Sachs "who was railroaded to jail because he dared to fight this discrimination and segregation of Negro workers."

THE FUR BOSSES' BI-PARTISAN FRIENDS

to three and a half hours, or 17½ hours a week.

DULL AND AMBIGUOUS

But it's pretty tough sitting through even those three and a half hours a day. The testimony recited by spokesmen for the fur manufacturers has been dull and repetitious. And the petty complaints of manufacturers have been so ambiguous as to be unbelievable.

But Schwabe and Lucas accept the testimony as gospel truth without attempting to cross-examine their glib witnesses. They merely ask the same questions of the fur bosses; questions such as Schwabe's: "Can you give me a guess as to how many members of the union are Communists?"

Lucas, the Texas lawyer elected by 15,000 votes out of the 220,000 people in his poll-taxed district, has his stock query: "Does this political ideology work to the detriment of industry, the workers, and the people in general?"

The whole thing is a fishing expedition, and holding the pole and casting out the line is the committee's investigator, John O. Graham.

A political appointee, Graham was formerly secretary to Rep. Samuel McConnell (R-Pa.), the investment banker who acts as an NAM hatchet man on the House Education and Labor committee. Graham learned McConnell's tactics well.

But Lucas always has to prompt Graham to ask each manufacturer whether he's a Communist or not. Lucas and Schwabe are determined to make that question a standard one in their hearings.

While they ask the bosses that question just before the witness completes his testimony, Graham will undoubtedly reverse the procedure for union leaders and pop the question right at the start.

In fact, Schwabe has already announced that contempt citations will be made against union leaders who refuse to reply to the Un-American committee's favorite question. That gives you an idea of the type of hearing that awaits fur union leaders next week.

Union leaders will appear before the committee beginning Wednesday. Fur union president Ben Gold is scheduled to be questioned Thursday. Gold has already challenged Schwabe to give him time enough to answer the "deliberate lies" told by the manufacturers.

ONE of the minor factors that may be encouraging the Nazis in Germany to come out of their holes to riot, tear up Soviet flags, etc., is the fact that Madrid Radio has broadcast to Western Berlin a message asking "Hitler's faithful" not to lose courage because "Germans in Spain also have an atomic bomb."

The broadcast was in German and the speaker was introduced as having been "one of Hitler's most famous fighter pilots. . . ."

The Lillian Hellman stage version of Norman Mailer's best selling novel, The Naked and the Dead, is now at the casting stage. . . .

If the Calvert whiskey's new planned advertising campaign materializes many of those who posed for those Men of Distinction advertisements are going to be sore as a boil. The proposed series to be called Dogs of Distinction—this time with a distinguished looking bow-wow placed near the bottle. . . .

Ella Fitzgerald the next to take off for London to perform there. A well known Broadway heel, according to Bob Edge, not only passes the buck—he adds the sales tax. . . .

A large theatre chain is planning to televise its Broadway house stage shows and syndicate filmed versions to other houses in its web.

Caught any of those television whodunits? Mystery is not in the plots—but why they were aired. . . .

And then there's the radio contestant who says to the quiz show master of ceremonies: "Do you mind repeating that answer?" . . .

George and Gracie Allen in town lining up talent for their new radio show. . . .

The National Theatre in town had 166 seats ripped out so that Town House, the new Max Gordon show opening there soon will have room for its scene of a two-story apartment house. Set is so high audience up front would not have been able to keep an eye on the action. . . .

Congratulations. It's a boy for Carl and Fay Callender. Five pounds, two ounces; his name is Stephen and we hear that the son of the Kings County Communist Party organizer is already lustily yelling "Si Gerson for City Council." . . .

A fan mail secretary for a Hollywood star was somewhat startled to read one letter which read, "Your Rape gave me a lovely time"—until, of course, she realized the writer was referring to The Rope. . . .

Another flash just came in about Communist Party building. Bob and Leona Thompson had a new recruit—a five pound boy, and the first name on his party card reads Jimmy. Mazel Tov! . . .

Salem Story, the Sid Alexander play which was put on last season by Stage for Action, has won the Stanford University Maxwell Anderson Award for the best full length verse drama of that year. #### NEWSPAPER TALK

Joe Louis will write a column for the Negro newspaper, the New York Age, which has just been sold to Englishman Richard Bourne-Vanneck.

Dan Burley, who was managing editor of the Amsterdam News, will be the new editor, and Bill Chase, who was columnizing for that paper, has also switched to the Age. The new bi-weekly's first issue will be out September 17. . . .

Alan Max, our managing editor, has had his short story, Loyal Miss Ferch, a satire on the Truman government "loyalty" program, reprinted in the anthology Our Lives, the first selection of Our Book Club. Volume is a collection of the best short stories on American labor. Loyal Miss Ferch first appeared in the old New Masses. . . .

The Nation magazine conducted a confidential presidential poll among 1,000 of its oldest subscribers.

Wallace came out on top. . . .

The New York Herald Tribune has so much newsprint hoarded it's even overflowing their editorial offices. Stacked up all over the place. . . .

Just heard about the chap who has six small kids, each of whom wants a dog.

The price of dogs is up, too.

So our friend up and bought a dachshund—so that all the kids could pet it at the same time. . . .

Hollywood:

ZANUCK'S 'MARSHALL FILM PLAN'

By David Platt

THIS coming year Twentieth Century Fox will produce 12 top-flight films in Europe where the company has frozen funds available and where wages and costs of production are lower than in Hollywood. At the same time, the number of pictures to be produced by Fox on the coast in 1949 will be reduced by 12, thereby throwing more hundreds off the payroll. Darryl Zanuck who informed the press of the above, terms this program a "Marshall Film Plan." That's exactly what it is—a plan to cut the ground from underneath film workers and artists on both sides of the Atlantic.

CENSORSHIP: The Chicago police censorship board has banned the Alfred Hitchcock film Rope on "moral grounds." They say this story about two Harvard intellectuals who kill a third, non-intellectual Harvardite just for the kick they get out of it bears too close a resemblance to the Loeb-Leopold crime in Chicago in the 20s.

It occurs to me that Hitchcock could easily have avoided all this trouble with the police. Now if he had made the victim of the murderers a Communist, he could have protected himself on "moral grounds," the sky now being the limit where "reds" are concerned. Then, instead of banning his film, the Chicago police would probably have sponsored its showing with a street parade.

ANTI-SEMITISM: The "Oliver Twist" film in which Fagin, one of the Dickensian characters, is shown as a "shabby, hook-nosed and long-bearded caricature," has just been blasted by the conservative Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The League says it will do serious harm to the Jewish people. They make it clear, however, that they have no intention of picketing the film if released. That will have to be done by groups who take anti-Semitism more seriously than B'nai B'rith.

TRICKS OF THE TRADE: That phony item in the want-ad section of the Herald Tribune a few days ago asking for a talking "dog, bear or horse to narrate animal film for well-known documentary series," paid off with more than 600 phone calls, two radio spots, a UP story and television coverage. The ad which stated: "Must have good voice, no birds or cows," was a publicity gag dreamed up for RKO Pathe's "This Is America" short Friend of the Family.

A book manufacturing institute, wanting to know what proportion of time the public spends on reading, polled a cross-section of the population on how they divide their time among five pursuits. The claimed results showed 49 percent listen to radio; 21 percent read newspapers; 11 percent read magazines; 11 percent go to movies; 8 percent read books. The institute concluded that the best way to sell books was to advertise them on the air.

'Luxury Liner' Gets Nowhere

By Herb Tank

MGM's Luxury Liner hardly needed a navigator to chart its way over the well worn path that this musical chooses to travel. This is the sixth or seventh, or maybe even the eighth, of a series of big Pasternak musicals that look alike, sound alike, and, I'm very much afraid, smell exactly alike. Sweet and syrupy, they offend my aching teeth. Although the luxury liner of the title is a motor driven vessel there are enough singers on the ship, and in the film, with diaphragms sufficiently sturdy I am sure to blow a sailing vessel from here to kingdom come. Big Lauritz Melchior and little Jane Powell between them have enough lung power to keep a wind tunnel in operation.

GEORGE BRENT

THE LUNG POWER in Luxury Liner goes to work on such varied numbers as Alouette and the Peanut Vendor (Jane Powell), a hunk of Aida and a Scandinavian gin mill number (Lauritz Melchior), and I've Got You Under My Skin (Marina Koshetz). The last comes off the best.

There is of course a yarn of sorts tying together the opera arias, pop tunes, and samba dances, that make up the chief cargo on Luxury Liner. This one is the tired old business about the too cute little girl who plays cupid to her sea captain of a father. Real coy stuff. The girl stows away on her father's ship. The father is lonely. So is one of the passengers. Right age, too. The whole business blossoms out into charming middle aged romance, Pasternak style, in full blooming, picture post card Technicolor.

SO FAR NOT mentioned, but also in the cast is George Brent who plays the father, Francis Clifford who plays the lonely passenger, and Xavier Cugat who plays the sambas.

Luxury Liner is currently making its trips at the Capitol. Better travel by railroad.

Progressive Intellectuals In German U. S. Zone 'Starved'

By Rhoda Miller

WARSAW, (Telepress).—"Culture in the American Zone of Germany?" Anne Seghers, famous German anti-fascist writer and delegate to the Wroclaw Congress of Intellectuals, repeated my question with a sad smile on the train to Warsaw after the Congress.

"You can best characterize it is this way," she said. "The Americans do not throw out progressive professors. They simply don't give them coal or food. And the Americans do not do this directly themselves, it is Germans under American direction and protection who carry out the job of starving and freezing out all vestiges of progressive thinking and resistance to the American colonization policy in the Western zone. There is no coal or food for progressive teachers, and no paper for German writers with social consciences in the west."

HERE JUERGEN KUCZYNSKI, eminent German economist, who was sitting with us, broke in. "The best reflection of the difference in the whole social outlook," he said, "is the composition of the students who attend universities. In the West, even war-wounded young people cannot attend, since they get no help or money, while, in the east, culture has been taken out of the hands of the bourgeoisie by the fact that all possibilities are given to the sons and daughters of workers and peasants to go to universities."

Kuczynski paused, and added, "But take de-Nazification, the most important cultural development. The criterion in the west zone de-Nazification courts is not so much whether a man is a Nazi or how important a Nazi he is, but whether he is anti-Bolshevik and the degree to which he is."

Kuczynski then turned to economic matters, which are his specialty. "The Americans," in every aspect of economic life create the conditions of a colony in western Germany. This is the first time in history that a fully qualified working-class has been handed on a platter to an imperial power. While this is a temporary advantage to the Americans, in the end it is from this working-class that resistance will come."

Comparing trends in the west and east zones, Kuczynski continued, "the currency reform in the west, combined with highly increased imports, brought increased riches to the middle and upper bourgeoisie, many of whom live better than before. It is the lower 50 percent of the population who are badly hit by this so-called reform, and the lower the income in that lower 50 percent, the more gnawing the hunger. It is as if an attempt is being made to weaken the people mentally, morally and physically by constant food insufficiency. Since the western currency reform, unemployment in the western zone had increased by 50 per cent," Kuczynski said.

A Labor MP Views World Conflicts

By Robert Friedman

YOU CAN'T TURN THE CLOCK BACK is an examination of American and British foreign policy by R. W. G. Mackay, a Labor member of Parliament. It is not a thorough examination, to be sure, since such matters as the Anglo-American role in Palestine are conspicuously missing.

However, what the author has to say is this: The Soviet Union and

YOU CAN'T TURN THE CLOCK BACK, by R. W. G. Mackay. Ziff-Davis, New York. 367 pp. $3.50.

Communism are here to stay regardless of the loud noises the American government and press make to frighten them away. American and Soviet antagonisms are the fundamental fact in the world today. The Soviet Union is a democratic society, providing equality of opportunity but having a "totalitarian" government; the U.S. has a democratic government, but no economic equality. All the above from M. Mackay, who offers as little evidence to prove the anti-democratic character of the Soviet government as he does to demonstrate the democratic perfection of a Wall Street dominated, thought-controlling government in Washington.

Convinced that Britain is through as a world power, the author suggests that her place is in a Western European federation. That federation he views as a strong "third force" between the Soviets and the U. S., economically independent, powerful enough to avoid getting into a third world war and perhaps powerful enough to avert one.

The author hastens to assure the reader that he is not proposing the United Europe of Churchill which is aimed at the Soviet Union. Perhaps what he has in mind is the profitable neutrality of Sweden extended to a social democratic western Europe.

Interspersed with some good sense on the strong probability of the continued development of the Soviet society and the author's federation fantasy are his commendations for the Marshall Plan and the Lillenthal "plan" for atomic control.

Memoirs of Gandhi

GANDHI'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY has been issued by Public Affairs Press in a version described as personally revised by the Indian political and religious leader before his death. Gandhi first began to write these memoirs when he was imprisoned by the British in 1922. This edition is said to be the first complete text to be published outside of India.

GANDHI'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY, by M. K. Gandhi. Public Affairs Press, Washington, D. C. 640 pp. $5.

The autobiography is of rather specialized interest, both because it was written for home consumption and presupposes far greater familliarity with names, places, customs and policies than most American readers will have, and because it does not deal with the events of the last two and a half decades. While this volume by no means provides a clear and adequate analysis of Indian history in relation to basic world social conflicts, it will be of interest to those wishing to read Gandhi's own description of his childhood and maturing years and his emergence as a dominant figure on the Indian political scene.—R.P.

Al Capp Takes ABC's 'Hint'

By Federated Press

Radio listeners who heard Al Capp, creator of the Li'l Abner comic strip, substitute for vacationing columnist Drew Pearson on his weekly broadcast Aug. 15, welcomed the clever Capp's hardhitting comments on the current economic scene.

Capp rapped high prices, talked about the housing shortage and said many things that radio commentators don't say any more these days—if they expect to stay on the air.

On Aug. 22, Capp's second program, however, there was absolutely no mention of prices, housing or high profits. Instead listeners heard Capp talk about his adventures as a teen-age lover.

Union Voice, newspaper of eight locals of the Retail Wholesale & Dept. Store Union (CIO), tells why Capp kept off politics in an exclusive story in its Aug. 29 issue.

After his Aug. 22 broadcast, reporters Marty Solow and Bernie Stephens were told by Capp that "he preferred not to talk about it." But sources close to the American Broadcasting Co. informed them that Capp had been summoned to a conference by representatives of ABC and the sponsor, Lee Hats.

He was told "smoothly but firmly that he wasn't exactly a news analyst and that perhaps it would be better all around if he would stick to funnyman stuff and leave politics to other people."

Capp did tell Union Voice that his Aug. 15 broadcast was "the kind of radio I like to do." During his Aug. 22 pre-broadcast warm-up he gave a tipoff on what had happened at the conference with studio and company officials. Capp, a big, broad-shouldered guy with a shock of black hair like Li'l Abner's, sat at a table before the studio audience taking sips of water liberally spiked with Alka Seltzer, Union Voice reports.

He offered to share the bicarbonate with the audience, warning that they might need it after the program. Jest along, he remarked that he had just had a pretty tough week. There had been some objections to his news analysis, he said adding for emphasis, "the roof really fell on me."

After the broadcast Capp told Union Voice that mail had run 12 to 1 in favor of his initial newscast.

Just before he went on the air, Capp told the studio audience with a wry smile: "This broadcast marks farewell to Al Capp, news analyst, and hail to Al Capp, weaver of dreams."

Asked for advice to give to any budding news commentators, Capp, who now should know, said "Marry a vice president's daughter, that's the only way."

Around the Dial:

Slapsie Maxie Roughs Up 30 Min. Show

By Bob Lauter

SLAPSIE Maxie Rosenbloom is one of the recent additions to the new list of radio comedians. Slapsie's show is a WNBC hopeful, and he does his stuff Wednesdays, at 8:00 p.m.

Ever since Max Rosenbloom stopped being light-heavyweight, he's been press-agented into national prominence in any number of bizarre ways. Maxie is dumb. Maxie is ugly. Maxie has the reflexes of a dinosaur. In short, Maxie is a character.

Rarely—and only rarely—did the build-up men come forth with something really good, such as the story that went the rounds when Maxie opened a Hollywood nightclub. The cover charge was five cents, and Maxie explained that this was to keep out the riff-raff.

The name of Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom thrived on this gag for a year or so.

THEN MAXIE HIT the movies, where instead of being portrayed as dumb and ugly, he was portrayed as ugly and dumb, but usually good-hearted. On occasion, he was fairly entertaining. But say what you will about such a career, you have to admit that when it comes to making the most out of press-agentry, Slapsie Maxie is still light-heavyweight champion.

HIS NEW RADIO show, I am afraid, is the end of the trail. Enough is enough. How much humor can you squeeze out claiming to be dumb and ugly? (It may break his heart, but I always thought he had an appealing face. And how can you tell who's dumb in an election year?)

Maxie mispronounces words on his show to prove that his grasp of the English language is primitive. All such humor derives from Sheridan's Mrs. Malaprop, and none improves on Sheridan. The laughs just aren't there anymore.

Slapsie Maxie's ears have been mistaken for ear muffs for 10! these many years, and the gag is drier than last week's bread. And when Slapsie is confused by the word "Stop" in a telegram, he is attempting a routine which only Costello can get away with—and not very often.

MAXIE'S script writers are riding the English language high and wide in the attempt to corral a laugh. The search for humor becomes desperate. You begin to feel sorry for everybody involved in the show. Puns are attempted. To say that the puns lack subtlety would be a masterpiece of understatement. Someone from the other world says "Halo and goodbye." After this falls with a wet thud, Maxie attempts another, in which he confuses the word "knight" with "night." It's all so sad.

WHEN I WENT to grammar school, we thought it a simply terrific gag to remark that Venus de Milo has no arms because she used to chew her fingernails. When I heard the gag on Maxie's show, somehow it didn't seem as

DINAH SHORE, rejoins comedian Eddie Cantor when his program returns to air Friday, Oct. 1, NBC, 9:00 p.m.

Golden Jubilee of the Moscow Gorky Art Theatre

The Moscow Gorky Art Theatre, the leading Soviet drama theatre, will enter on its 50th year in a few days the Moscow Art Theatre was founded in the autumn of 1898 by Konstantin Stanislavsky and Vladimir Nemirovich-Danchenko, two of the greatest Russian theatrical leaders.

The new theatre gained fame and became the most popular theatre in Russia right from its first performance. In the course of 50 years the Art Theatre has staged plays by Leo Tolstoy, Chekhov, Ibsen, Shakespeare, Turgenev, Sully-Khodzhin, Gorky, Vsevolod Ivanov, Afanogonov, Kornelchuk and other playwright. Chekhov's and Gorky's plays are still put on there and enjoy tremendous success. Chekhov's Cherry Orchard, for instance, has been staged 1,173 times and Gorky's Lower Depths 1,232 times.

Of the Art Theatre's initial company only Olga Knipper-Chekhova and Vassil Kachalov are alive to meet the 50th anniversary of the Theatre. The Art Theatre company now consists of the so-called middle generation, educated by Stanislavsky and Nemirovich-Danchenko. These are such brilliant actors as Tarassova, Elanskaya, Androvskaya, Dobrohravov, Bogolyubov, Livanov and Gribov. Kedrov, Stanislavsky's disciple, is a director of the Moscow Art Theatre at the present time.

In the half century since its foundation the Art Theatre has made tours of Western Europe and the Western hemisphere, and has played in scores of Russian provincial towns. It has been awarded two Government Orders—the Order of Lenin and the Order of the Red Banner of Labour—for outstanding services rendered in the development of the Russian art of the theatre.

The Theatre company is rehearsing, for its anniversary performances, 'Green Street', a play by the contemporary Soviet playwright Surov, devoted to Soviet engineers. The finest plays of the Art Theatre repertory will be produced during the anniversary with Knipper-Chekhova and Kachalov taking part.

Sundown Beach, first Broadway presentation of the Actors' Studio group, closed Saturday with its fifth performance. Daily Worker critic Lee Newton had said of the show that the playwright craftsmanship displayed by author Bessie Breuer was far inferior to that of the Actors Studio's players. "Only the intense and dynamic acting . . . kept the production alive with isolated moments of emotional tension and rapport."

Loss is estimated at $4,000, but sponsor Louis J. Singer, who divides his enthusiasm between real estate and the theatre, says he isn't troubled by that, although he is disappointed that the play closed. He says Actors' Studio will keep on producing. No play is scheduled as yet.

Choreographer Helen Tamiris is now represented by three shows on Broadway. She created the dances for Annie Get Your Gun, Inside U. S. A. and Show Boat.

A Department of Musical Plays has been added to the Dramatic Workshop of the New School. It was created because of the new trend in Broadway musicals, which are a combination of book, music and the dance. Department is headed by Jay Gorney, composer, lyricist, scenario-writer and producer.

Rookie of Year Won't Rest on His Laurels

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12 (UP). — Richie Ashburn received the news that he had been chosen Rookie of the Year with the hope he could improve his playing next season "so I can stay in the big leagues."

The 21-year-old speedy Philadelphia Phillies outfielder sat in the stands at Shibe Park watching his team play Boston when informed he was the "Sporting News" choice.

"I am very glad to win it," said Ashburn, who has been nursing a broken left wrist the past two weeks. "It's quite an honor indeed."

But the blond, good-looking fly-chaser apparently is not satisfied with his present .333 batting average and his record of 32 stolen bases. He's looking for improvement next year.

"I want to learn to drag a bunt," the former Tilden, Neb., high school star said. "I want to study the opposing pitchers so I can steal more bases. I want to learn to play opposing batters by how they hit out pitchers so I can cover more ground in the outfield. And I want to improve my throwing arm."

The 170-pound Ashburn won the coveted rookie award in his third year of organized baseball. Before joining the Phillies, he played with Utica of the Eastern League in 1946 and 1947.

He said he "hated to quit" when he was hurt playing against the Pittsburgh Pirates two weeks ago because "I was just starting to learn after seeing all those good players in action."

Ashburn, who started as a catcher but was converted into an outfielder at Utica, said he learned a lot of baseball this year.

"It's a much better brand of ball than I ever saw and it taught me to keep bearing down all the time," the young centerfielder said. "I found out if I ever forgot and let up a bit a slump could always threaten."

Ashburn said he saw some pitching in the big leagues that "I had never seen before."

"For instance, I never saw a screwball until I came to the majors," he said. "The pitchers have a great assortment of stuff — curves, fast balls and sliders. But they have great control and you can step up there confidently."

Ashburn is the second Phillies' player to win the award in the past three seasons. In 1946, outfielder Del Ennis won the honors.

Last year's rookie award went to Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers, first Negro to play in the majors.

Satchel Paige, Negro pitching immortal who joined the Indians late this season, was among those cited for honorable mention in the '48 list drawn up by the Sporting News poll. Others were Hal Jeffcoat of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Chesnes of the Pirates, Robin Roberts of the Phillies, Louis Brissie of the Philadelphia Athletics, Gene Bearden and Joe Tipton of the Indians, George Vico of the Detroit Tigers, Bob Porterfield of the New York Yankees and Dick Kokos of the St. Louis Browns.

Pirates Walk Over Cubs 7-3

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (UP). — Four Chicago pitchers doled out 14 walks and the Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of most of them to chalk up a 7 to 3 victory before 27,967 at Wrigley field today.

Ralph Hamner issued four walks for a starter, Bob McCall was more generous with six and Jess Dobernic and Bob Rush followed with two apiece. McCall was the loser.

Old Rip Sewell issued no passes and held the Cubs to five hits, one of which was Hal Jeffcoat's fourth home run with none aboard in the eighth. With the victory, the runner-up Pirates gained on the league leading Boston Braves.

Four of the seven Pittsburgh runs were forced across the plate when no room could be found for strolling batsmen on the overcrowded bags. The Pirates left 13 men stranded, nine of them in three innings.

Survey Shows the Dodgers 500,000 Off '47 Home Attendance Mark

With three weeks still to go in the 1948 season, major league baseball looks like a sure thing to set an all-time attendance record, a United Press survey disclosed yesterday. Four clubs, the Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Athletics, Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates, already have set individual all-time attendance marks while seven teams have drawn more patrons this year than they did last year at a corresponding date.

THE MAJORS set an all-time attendance record last year by attracting a total of 19,954,832 fans. Whereas the 16 big league clubs drew 18,608,661 spectators up to Sept. 11, 1947, a total of 18,778,993 have paid their way into the parks to date this season. A total of 170,332 more fans attended games to date this season that had up to last year's corresponding date.

This season's total already surpasses the 1946 total of 18,612,704—which up to now had been the majors' second largest year at the box oee.

THE SEVEN teams which have drawn more this year than they did last year at a corresponding date are the Indians, Yankees, Red Sox, Athletics, Tigers, Braves and Pirates.

Up to Sept. 11, the American League had attracted 9,827,526 customers and the National League 8,951,467. Last year at this time, the American League had drawn 9,027,572 and the National 9,581,089.

The New York Yankees, who set an all-time individual club attendance mark in 1946 with 2,265,512 paid admissions, lead the pack again this year with 2,243,235 customers thus far. Only other club over the two million mark is Cleveland with 2,064,003. The Indians set a major league record this season when they drew 82,781 on June 20 for a doubleheader with the Athletics.

Cleveland is sure to break the Yankees' all-time attendance mark for the Indians have 17 more games left. The Yankees also have a chance, for their remaining three home games are again the Red Sox. Most of the clubs now on the minus side of the ledger will probably wind up with better attendance figures than last year because of the large number of home games remaining. In the National League, the eastern teams finish the season at home, while in the American, the western teams finish in their own parks. Thus clubs like Brooklyn with 18 home games left, the Giants with 20 and the Phillies are almost sure to break their 1947 records as are the Browns in the American League.

Not only are the aggregate figures for 1948 higher, but they also were recorded in a smaller number of games. In 1947, the 16 clubs had played a total of 1,093 games up to Sept. 11; this year they had played only 1,061—32 games less. So they have a total of 171 home games left in which to break the major's all-time seasonal attendance mark.

Cleveland's previous best total was in 1947, when the Indians drew 1,521,978 at home. The Athletics, with a total of 924,958 admissions thus far, wiped out their previous 1947 mark of 911,566.

PITTSBURGH HAS drawn the most fans at home in the National, a total of 1,283,531 who attended the Pirates' 1947 home games.

The fourth club to break its own attendance record, the Braves, have played before 1,374,362 fans at home thus far to wipe out their previous 1947 record of 1,277,361.

Brooklyn has shown the sharpest slump in attendance. Last year at this time, the Dodgers had drawn 1,700,588. This year, they have played before 1,195,583 at Ebbets Field.

The Browns, last in attendance in 1947, are last again this year with 317,129 paid admissions.

A's Turn on Red Sox 10-4, With 6 in 9th

BOSTON, Sept. 12 (UP). — Rallying from behind after being held to three hits over six innings, the Philadelphia Athletics plastered a 10-4 defeat on to the Boston Red Sox today, scoring all six winning runs in the ninth inning.

Joe Dobson was breezing along over the first six innings and had a 3 to 1 lead, but the A's tied it in the seventh with a walk to Elmer Valo, Buddy Rosar's double and Pete Suder's single for one run with Carl Scheib hitting a long out for the tying tally. Sam Chapman then smacked a double which scored Hank Majeski, knotting the count at 3-3.

Dobson left for a pinch hitter in the eighth and Dave Ferriss started pitching the ninth. Three singles convinced he was not helping, and Earl Johnson and Tex Hughson did not prove much more effective, the A's making seven hits in the inning to score six times.

Scheib pitched the distance for the A's and though he was hit for 12 blows, the Sox left 11 men on the bases.

This was the final game of the home stand for the Red Sox. They open their final western stand Tuesday night in Chicago.

Philadelphia —100 000 216—10 15 1
Boston —000 201 001—4 12 0

Scheib and Rosar; Dobson, Ferriss (9), Johnson (9), Hughson (9), and Tebbetts. Losing pitcher, Dobson.

Yugoslavs Complain Of Sports "Boycott"

BELGRADE, Sept. 12—Three East European countries have withdrawn their teams from recent international meets in an apparent "sports boycott" of Yugoslavia, the newspaper Borba reported today.

The newspaper said that Czechoslovak, Hungarian and Bulgarian teams had backed out of sports dates with Yugoslavia during the past week.

GIANTS SINK DODGERS AGAIN; YANKS SLUG SENATORS 10-5

Cop Series 5-3 to End Flatbush Hopes

By Scorer

Leo Durocher dropped the final gram of poison into Brooklyn's cup yesterday at the Polo Grounds when his newly acquired Giants made it three out of four in the windup series of the year by a 5-3 score.

As in the other games of the series, except for Rex Barney's superlative no-hitter last Thursday night, it was a lack of hitting power which licked the boys from over the bridge.

Brooklyn went to bat from the first inning under a three run handicap as Preacher Roe, who had been the steadiest hurler on the staff, tossed batting practice pitches to the plate. The first three batters who faced the Arkansas hillbilly hit safely, Lohrke scoring after Lockman and Gordon hit one-basers. Roe filled the bags with an intentional pass to Mize, and after Marshall went out, Walker Cooper delivered the other two runs with a lusty single to center. Earl Erskine retired the side, but was touched for a fourth run in the fourth on Thompson's double and Kerr's single.

The Dodgers had scoring opportunities in the first when Lohrke erred and Pete Reiser singled. Again in the second, Edwards opened with a single but Brooklyn did not score until Duke Snider hit a pinch home-run in the fifth. The Giants made that run up when Elmer Sexauer, the burly right-hander from the bushes, came into the game in the seventh, walking Thomson and Kerr, with Buddy scoring on Lohrke's fly following a sacrifice.

In that inning, the Dodgers were unable to score, although Reese walked, pinchhitting Arky Vaughan was safe on an error and Furillo was passed to fill the bases. Jackie Robinson's liner to Kerr was converted into a double play as Buddy leaped high in the air to grab what looked like a sure single.

Gene Hermanski opened the eighth with his 14th home run to right. With one out, Shuba singled, took second on an infield out, and third on a wild pitch. Shuba then scored on Reese's single.

Sheldon Jones, who had held the Dodgers safely until then, was replaced by Ken Trinkle. Gil Hodges, who didn't get a hit in the entire series, finished the rally with a fly ball.

After Paul Minner banded a single off Trinkle's chin in the ninth, he was replaced by Dave Koslo, who stopped the Dodger threat. Roe was charged with the loss and Jones with the win, his 15th of the year.

The attendance was 40,864. Clint Hartung will face the second-place Pirates in tonight's game. The Dodgers dropped to fourth place, five one-thousandths of a percentage point ahead of the Giants, and so far behind the Boston Braves that Chopin's Funeral March is the most popular tune in Brooklyn today.

Browns Crush Bills 42-13

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 12 (UP).

The champion Cleveland Browns, as magnificent as ever, struck smartly by air and forcefully on the ground today to defeat the Buffalo Bills, 42 to 13, for their second straight victory in defense of their All America Conference football title.

The Browns' passing star, automatic Otto Graham, directed the air attack, connecting with 11 out of 21 passes, two of them for touchdowns. He and his capable understudy, Cliff Lewis, accounted for 236 yards in completed passes.

'49ers Maul Yanks 41-0

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12 (UP).

Frankie Albert & company unleashed one of the most explosive attacks in professional football today to drive the San Francisco Forty-Niners to a crushing 41-0 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Albert, the "original" T-formation field general, tossed three touchdown passes and flashed across the goal line once himself for San Francisco's third straight league victory.

Keller HRs, Byrne Holds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (UP).—Pinch-hitter Charley Keller's three-run homer into the center field bleachers in the second inning nullified a 3 to 1 Washington lead and paved the way for a 10 to 5 victory for the New York Yankees today before 16,839 fans.

Keller's 425-foot smash came off Walter Masterson, who lost his ninth game as the world champs pounded three Washington pitchers for 16 hits.

Tommy Byrne's brilliant relief pitching sliced the Boston Red Sox' American League lead to two games over the Yankees. Byrne won his fifth game for the world champs, pitching five hitless innings before being nicked for a triple and two singles. Byrne rescued the Yanks' prize rookie, Bob Porterfield, who pitched three hits and three runs to the Senators in the first inning and then bowed out.

New York — 040 002 220 — 10 16 1
Washington — 300 000 200 — 5 6 2

Porterfield, Byrne (2) and Niarhos; Masterson, Wynn (3), Welteroth (8) and Early, Okrie (8). Winning pitcher, Byrne. Losing pitcher, Masterson. Home run—Keller.

Hanging Out the Wash—(And Dodgers)

GO AHEAD. Give up on Brooklyn if you want to. Fair weather friends, cowards, realists. Go ahead, who needs you. Me, I'm hanging around another 48 hours. Anything can happen. Chicken pox might hit the whole Boston team. Just like t-h-a-t! (Snap your fingers for me, willya, I got the shakes since Saturday.)

YOU THINK I'm the only one around here who can give you a bum steer? I can still hear Frenchy Bordogary nudging me in the Dodger dugout earlier this season when the Phillies came in. "That Ashburn, a nice looking kid. But he got no power. Won't hit in this league."

Rookie of the Year, 32 stolen bases, a .333 batting average. What league was Bordogary talking about?

OF COURSE you couldn't tell for sure, but Willie Pep didn't look like a guy gone back last Friday night. In those few instants when Paddy DeMarco wasn't wrassling him to death, Wee Willie gave you flashes of his genius. Most exasperating, that whole evening was. You waited two years for a brilliant scrapper to come back to the Garden, and when he did, the fight was loused up by a kid who wanted to play flying tackle all night.

After being butted and hit on the break and clubbed on the dome while in a kneeling position outside the ropes, the Hartford champion finally decided that if it was the business DeMarco wanted rather than a boxing match, Willie would give it to him. It made for a lot of laughs, the way Pep outroughed his tormentor, but hardly was it an evening of classic entertainment in the traditional Pep manner. Nonetheless, Paddy will think twice before he ever tries to play rough with Willie again.

"I'm only 26, got another 8 or 9 good years left," Pep quipped in his dressing room afterward. Time does move on. He was a skinny baby-faced 21-year-old the night he took Chalky Wright's title. Six years ago. Only one defeat in 134 fights, and isn't that something to marvel at? The kind of record one usually associates alone with Joe Louis or Ray Robinson. But Pep is worthy of such company. Another year and the inevitable downgrade process will become more noticeable. You hope, before that happens, he'll put it on the line against Sandy Saddler and then give it a try against Ike Williams. But soon.

CHARLIE WORKMAN's name should be the occasion for interested bidding in the next major league draft. The Nashville Vols' 30-year-old outfielder has just set a new Southern Association home-run mark with 51 circuit shots. Workman has had three tries in the majors but never quite made it with the Braves, Indians and Phillies. One of those Novikoff stories. Still, I'm willing to bet that the not-so-young slugger will have more than a few clubs interested in giving him a fourth crack at the bigtime next season. . . .

Bob Chesnes, one big reason why Pittsburgh is where it is in the NL standings (and I still can't see how they got there) rates his curve ball as the stopper. "That's what I get most of the hitters on," says the $75,000 prize package who owns a 12-4 record. But Bob admits there's one batter in the loop whom neither the celebrated curve or any other pitch has any effect. The man Musial, natch. "I gave Stan four different pitches one night and he hit two doubles, a single and triple." Don't let it throw you, Brother Chesnes, there isn't a pitcher in the league who doesn't have the same complaint. . . .

Didn't think it possible, but I find myself getting ever so slightly interested in the premature pro football doings. No, it has nothing to do with the sad status of my baseball Dodgers. Tell the truth. Doesn't the Bear backfield with Lujack, Luckman and Layne do something to you? To say nothing about seeing Young and Sanders bust the Yanks loose again. And how about another season of Cleveland's Graham and Motley. . . . Steve Owen's new Giant backfield . . . reports of a healthier Kenny Washington geared to give it the old college try for Los Angeles, etcetera. Yeah, maybe it is time to play football. . . .

Larry Doby's streak was stopped after hitting safely in 20 consecutive games. To no credit of the enemy pitchers. Boudreau benched him to rest his sore ankle. The thought of Doby's doings a few seasons hence kind of staggers the imagination. . . .

That oft-cancelled Ezzard Charles-Jimmy Bivins return fight goes into the fire tonight. Ezzard already holds a kayo over Bivins, and likelihood is he'll repeat on the performance. Was a time, my friends, when Jimmy Bivins looked like the stiffest obstacle Joe Louis would have to hurdle when the champ doffed khaki. Jimmy was a wonder to watch. But the serious minded Cleveland never could warm up to the business, not even when he was going good. Onetime valetorian for his graduating class, and interested dabbler with the oils, Jimmy boxed because it was the only way he could make a decent living. But down deep he despised the cruel game. And when a fighter is that sensitive to it, sooner or later he stops becoming a winning fighter. Which is what happened to Bivins.

Only trouble is he still needs the money and still keeps on fighting. Which is not an unusual dilemma with many other boxers who never had half the talent that was once Bivins'.
